PART III.

Act of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BEN GAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, received the assent of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on the 15th January 1887, and having received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on 31st idem, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT NO. I OF 1887.

An Act to provide for a Survey of the Town of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the survey and demarcation of lands in the Town of Calcutta, it is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act shall be called "The Calcutta Survey Act, 1887," and shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

It extends to the Town of Calcutta within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context.—

"Survey" includes identification of boundaries and all other operations antecedent to, or connected with, survey.

"Superintendent" means the Superintendent of Survey under this Act.

"Land" includes anything attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Premises" means any land described as such in the Registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta or as a holding in the Registers of the Calcutta Collectorate.

"Owner" includes—
(a) the person having permanent interest in any land or premises ;
(b) an agent of, or manager on behalf of, such person ;
(c) a trustee of such person ;
(d) a body corporate in which land is vested by operation of Statute.

3. The Local Government may, whenever it thinks fit, order, by order survey and appoint a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in the Town of Calcutta, and for such purpose may appoint a Superintendent of Survey and one or more Assistant Superintendents of Survey. The Assistant Superintendents of Survey shall exercise such powers as may be delegated to them by the Superintendent.

4. The Superintendent of Survey shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power either by himself or by an Assistant Superintendent of Survey, or by other officers employed in the survey, to enter between the hours of sunrise and sunset, upon any land or premises within the local limits aforesaid, without being liable to any legal proceedings whatsoever on account of such entry, or of anything done on such land or premises in pursuance of this Act.

Provided that no such entry shall be made upon lands or premises which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof or without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of the intention to do so.

5. Before entering on any land or premises for the purposes of survey, the Superintendent may cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner of the land or premises about to be surveyed, and on the owners of conterminous lands or premises, calling upon them to attend either personally or by agent on such land or premises before him or before such officers as may be authorized by him in that behalf, within a specified time (which shall not be less than three days after the service of such notice), for the purpose of pointing out boundaries, and of affording such information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act, and every person on whom such notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice and to give any information which may be required so far as he may be able to give it.

6. If after due service of notice under the last preceding section, any person fails to appear without showing sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Superintendent, the Superintendent, or such officer as may be authorized by him, may proceed with the survey, and the person who is so absent shall be bound by the results of the survey in the same manner and to the same extent as if the survey were made in his presence.

7. If in the course of survey it shall come to the notice of the Superintendent that a dispute exists as to any boundaries which should be surveyed, the Superintendent shall cause an inquiry to be held by an Assistant Superintendent, as hereinafter provided, for the purpose of determining such boundaries.

8. When any dispute exists as to any boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent who may be authorized by the Superintendent in this behalf shall cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the parties concerned requiring them to appear before him in person, or by an authorized agent on a specified day, and to produce evidence of possession of the land in dispute. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the specified day, or on such other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, hear the parties, receive the evidence produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence as he may think necessary, and without reference to the merits of the claim of any of such parties to a right to possess the land in dispute, decide which of the parties is in possession of the said land at the time of the survey.

9. For the purposes of the enquiry aforesaid, the Assistant Superintendent shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

10. After the enquiry has been completed, the Assistant Superintendent shall pass an order in writing, defining clearly the subject of dispute and shall record his decision and the reasons for such decision.

11. An appeal shall lie from any order passed by an Assistant Superintendent under the last preceding section to the Board of Revenue, or to such other authority as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint in this behalf, if preferred within thirty days from the date of such order.

12. In every case of disputed boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent authorized to hold the enquiry may, on the written application of the parties, refer the dispute to one or more arbitrators nominated by the parties respectively, and shall fix such time, and allow such extension of time, as may seem reasonable for the delivery of the award:

Provided that if it appears to the Assistant Superintendent that the Local Government or the Corporation of Calcutta is interested in any such dispute, he shall appoint in the former case, the Collector, or Deputy Collector, of Calcutta, and in the latter case, the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Surveyor of the Corporation, one of the arbitrators, unless the parties agree to such officer being appointed sole arbitrator.

13. Where an arbitrator nominated by a party refuses to act or becomes incapable of acting by reason of death or other sufficient cause, the party by whom he was nominated may, by a written application to the Assistant Superintendent, nominate another arbitrator, and on being satisfied that the application has been made on sufficient grounds, he shall confirm such nomination, and the arbitrator so appointed may thereupon proceed with the enquiry.

14. If the arbitrators differ, the award shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority; if they are equally divided in opinion, it shall be competent to them or to the Assistant Superintendent, on the written application of the arbitrators or of the parties to the arbitration to appoint an umpire, and the decision of the umpire determining the boundaries in dispute shall have the force of an award of the arbitrators.

15. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the application of the arbitrators or umpire, issue the same processes to parties and witnesses as he may issue in enquiries held by himself.

16. If the arbitrators or the umpire appointed under the preceding sections fail to deliver the award within the time allowed by the Assistant Superintendent, he may make an order super-seding the arbitration, and in such case he shall proceed with the enquiry.

17. The award shall be made in writing, and shall be signed by the persons making it, and shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent with any evidence which may have been taken by the arbitrators or the umpire. The Superintendent shall lay down the boundaries in accordance with the award.

cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner or person in occupation of the land or premises whereon, or adjoining which, such boundary mark is situate, requiring him to maintain and keep in repair such boundary mark till the survey has been completed.

20. After the survey of any part of the Town has been completed, the Superintendent shall deposit all maps, field books, proceedings, awards, and all other documents connected with the survey of such part in the Municipal Office of the Corporation of Calcutta.

All documents connected with the survey to be sent to the Municipal Office.

Any person interested in the survey may, at any time within two months from the date of such deposit, which date shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette, inspect such documents free of charge.

And if during such period any objection to the survey be lodged with the Superintendent, such objection shall be decided by the Superintendent or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

21. After all objections lodged under the last preceding section have been decided, the Local Government shall, if it

ESTABLISHMENT OF AN IMPERIAL INSTITUTE IN LONDON IN COMMEMORATION OF HER MAJESTY'S JUBILEE.

The following papers are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secy. to the Government of Bengal.

The 31st January 1887.

Circular No. 3—13-5Ex., dated Calcutta, the 24th January 1887.

From—W. R. LAWRENCE, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of India,
Revenue and Agricultural Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In forwarding, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a telegram from the Secretary of State, I am directed by His Excellency the Governor General in Council to request that, as it is advisable that the Imperial Institute to be founded in London in commemoration of Her Majesty's Jubilee should not be excluded from the attention of the Indian communities which are now rapidly maturing their plans for the celebration of that event, the wishes of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales may be communicated, in anticipation of the Secretary of State's despatch, both to all Committees formed for the purposes of the Jubilee, and to the Chambers of Commerce, the Municipal and Local Boards, and other influential bodies. His Excellency the Governor General in Council observes that the Imperial Institute, inasmuch as it is designed to increase the demand for Indian produce and manufactures by bringing them to the notice of consumers, and thus to call into requisition improved processes and methods of supply, is not unconnected with the promotion of industrial education in India, and may suitably find a place beside the local means of technical instruction among the permanent objects to which the larger communities are proposing to devote their subscribed funds. I am to request, therefore, that you will move His Honour to adopt early measures to make known to all classes of the community the wishes of His Royal Highness, and the objects of the Institution, as explained in the report of the Committee, and to take into consideration the formation of Local Committees with a view to further action for giving them effect.

Telegram, dated 18th January 1887.

From—Secretary of State, London,
To—Viceroy, Calcutta.

COMMEMORATION of Jubilee Imperial Institute. I send despatch enclosing letter from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with Report of Committee adopting suggestion of permanent representation of resources of Empire managed by body created by Charter with building for libraries, museums, trade conferences, &c. Scheme accepted by Chambers of Commerce and Colonial Agents, and acceptable to Her Imperial Majesty the Queen personally, may be held to be finally decided on. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales hopes it will receive cordial support of Your Excellency's Government and Princes of India. I concur, and suggest formation of Central and Local Committees to make objects known to all class of community.

CALCUTTA, the 1st February 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 28TH OF JANUARY 1887.

The past week has been characterized by large fluctuations of the barometer, considerable deficiency of pressure, slightly unsettled weather, and unusually low temperature. The depression which was advancing eastwards through the province during the latter part of the previous week was in South-East Bengal on Saturday (the 22nd). Moderately heavy rain fell on that day in the Chittagong district and Chittagong Hill Tracts, and light showers in the remaining districts of East Bengal, and in South-West Bengal and Orissa. The barometer rose rapidly on Saturday evening, and the depression disappeared before Sunday morning, when ordinary cold-weather conditions were again established. No change of importance occurred until the 25th, when another cold weather depression which had formed in Upper India began to influence the weather in Bengal. The barometer fell rapidly, and was unusually low in West Bengal on the 26th (Wednesday), and on the 27th in East Bengal, so that the depression passed eastwards. The rainfall accompanying it was not large, and was distributed in a very unusual manner. On the 26th, showers were received to the east of the depression in East Bengal, and in Khoolna, Jessore, Pubna, Bogra. On the 27th rain fell to the south and west of the depression in the 24-Pergunnahs, Chittagong and Backergunge. The barometer rose rapidly on Thursday evening, and fine clear weather extended over the province on Friday morning.

The barometric fluctuations varied to some extent in different parts of the province, as they depended upon the movements of the two depressions. The barometer rose from $\cdot 07''$ to $\cdot 16''$ on the evening of the 22nd. It fell steadily and slowly during the 23rd, 24th and 25th in Orissa, Behar, Chutia Nagpur and West Bengal, so that on the morning of the 26th it was from $06''$ to $\cdot 15''$ lower than on the morning of the 22nd. The fall continued in East Bengal until the morning of the 27th, and averaged $1''$. The barometer rose very slowly after this fall, probably due to the fact that another depression had formed in Upper India, and was again influencing the weather in Bengal. The mean pressure of the week is very considerably below the average, the difference being one-tenth of an inch in East Bengal, one-ninth of an inch in South-West Bengal, Orissa, North Behar and Chutia Nagpur, one-eighth of an inch in South Behar, and very nearly a sixth of an inch at Darjeeling, where pressure is at present unusually low. This is evidently an effect of the unusually stormy weather which has prevailed for some time in the Himalayan area.

Temperature, as is usual in periods of prolonged deficient pressure, was unusually low. The deficiency was greater in the day than in the night temperature. The mean minimum day temperature for the week was below the normal by amounts ranging from $3\cdot 7^{\circ}$ at Cuttack to $8\cdot 9^{\circ}$ at Purneah and $9\cdot 6^{\circ}$ at Darjeeling. The minimum night temperature was practically the same as the mean in North and Central Behar, but was from 3° to 4° below it over the greater part of Bengal, Orissa, and Chutia Nagpur. It was $9\cdot 4^{\circ}$ in defect at Darjeeling. The chief feature at present is the abnormally low temperature over the hills of Northern India, the defect at Darjeeling averaging nearly 10° for the past week. The mean temperature of the week was 6° below the normal mean in Chutia Nagpur, $4\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ in South and East Bengal and North Behar, and 3° in South Behar and Orissa. The following table gives data for eight representative stations:—

Rain fell on the 22nd in Orissa, the south-west districts of South-West Bengal and in East Bengal. The amounts were generally small. The Chittagong district and Chittagong Hill district obtained amounts exceeding one inch. A few light local showers were received in other districts. East Bengal, Khoolna, Jessore, Pubna, and Bogra obtained light showers on the 26th, the amounts generally varying between one and five-tenths of an inch. On the 27th light showers fell in the 24-Pergunnahs and in South-Eastern Bengal. Patuakhally, in the Backergunj district, recorded a heavy local fall of $3\cdot 05$ inches on that day. East Bengal received an average of nearly two-thirds of an inch, but this was mainly due to the heavy rainfall in the Chittagong district (averaging $1\cdot 64$ inches), and in Backergunj ($1\cdot 43$ inches). Orissa and South-West Bengal obtained an average of two-tenths. The rainfall of the week in Behar, North Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur was practically nil.

The rainfall of the month up to date has been unusually large and well distributed. Chutia Nagpur and Behar have received an average of nearly 2 inches, North and East Bengal an average slightly exceeding 1½ inches, South-West Bengal 1 inch, and Orissa a third of an inch. The normal rainfall of the period varies from quarter of an inch in Orissa to half an inch in North Behar.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 28th of January 1887:—

The total fall from 1st to 29th January 1887	1.49
The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, S. G.'s Office	0.28

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the basis of the population under all heads in the census of 1881.

Comparative statement of traffic carried over the Eastern Bengal State Railway for the month of November 1886.

The total quantity of goods carried over the above railway during November 1886 was 61,694 tons, which, as compared with the quantity carried during the corresponding period of the previous year, shows a decrease of 4,395 tons.

INCREASES.

The principal increases are in the following staples:—

Beltnuts 660 tons.

This abnormal increase is attributable to the Benares-Cuttack Railway's large shipments having been received via Khulna, remarks on which will be found in report on the fluctuation of traffic on that line.

Metals 307 tons.

The decrease in this article is attributable to the increased demand for such items as corrugated iron, iron beams, &c., for building purposes, and an increasing trade in metals and hardware generally.

Railway materials 1,485 tons.

This increase is attributable to the extension of railway and renewing lines already open generally in the Eastern district.

Salt 984 tons.

Exhaustion of stocks at out-stations reached by the Eastern Bengal State and connected Railways, augmented by lower freights per rail than obtain by water, accounts for the increase in quantity carried.

Tea 541 tons.

The fact of the line having been undergoing repairs after having been submerged during the period under comparison the previous year, and the gradual extension of growing acreage, will account for the increase.

DECREASES.

The principal decreases are—

Coal and coke 3,204 tons.

This decrease is accounted for by assuming that up-country stations had, during the month under reference, sufficient stocks for present consumption, added to the fact that coal may be sent cheaper and with less handling by water. It often happens that when any of the River Steamer Company's have not sufficient cargo to fill up a flat completely, they will fill up with coal and coke at a very nominal rate.

Cotton 440 tons.

The market reports show that "prices are nominal with sellers, and no buyers, so that business has been at a stand-still during the past week;" this has no doubt affected the traffic in this staple.

Jute 4,683 tons.

Fluctuation of prices in the home market in this produce is to be expected, and it is owing to a want of demand, the market being quiet and prices ruling being above home values, that has caused this falling off.

Hides 373 tons.

As in last report, the reason given for the increase in this article was increased prices in the Calcutta market, so this may be assumed as not an unlooked for decrease in the result of ordinary fluctuation of traffic.

Seeds 314 tons.

Dullness of the Calcutta market for shipment and falling in rates have produced this result.

Total	1,422	1,801	1,128	682	3,223	1,810	1,618	205

Comparative statement of traffic over the Bengal Central Railway during the month of November 1886.

INCREASES.

The total tonnage carried over the above railway during the period under reference was 3,323 tons, which, as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, shows a net increase of 1,415 tons.

The principal increases are in the following items, viz.—

Betelnuts 660 tons.

This increase is chiefly from Khulna, and may be attributed to low freights, comparative safety of transit, and facilities for bringing such produce, which previously found its way by water, to the railways, added to traffic canvassing being successful.

Jute 423 tons.

This is attributable to the steady expansion of the jute trade in the districts tapped by the Bengal Central Railway and the increased facilities of the railway and combined steamer services in getting the produce to the Calcutta market.

There was a slight increase in oils, railway material, coal and coke, rice and seeds, during the period under reference, but the increases are not of sufficient importance to call for special notice.

DECREASES.

Sugar 103 tons.

The remarks on the decrease of this staple, made last month, apply equally for the month under review.

There was a slight decrease in cotton (54 tons) during November, which does not call for special notice. On the whole, the traffic on the line may be considered as satisfactory. Though the increase shown is not large, the traffic appears to be steadily growing.

BURMA COAST.

COAST OF ARAKAN.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has reported that the 4-fathom shoal lying 20 miles S. by W. of Sandoway anchorage is incorrectly placed on the published charts of that coast.

The shoal—which has a depth of only 10 feet over it at low-water spring tides, and composed of large stones—is reported as being distant $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles S. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. of the position at present assigned.

Position—Latitude $18^{\circ} 14' N.$; longitude $94^{\circ} 03' 45'' E.$ (Madras observatory being in longitude $86^{\circ} 14' 51''$ East of Greenwich.)

Note.—Mariners should navigate this part of the coast with extreme caution.

RAMREE HARBOUR.

Information has been received that a beacon has been erected to indicate the harbour entrance near the northern end of Dragon shoal, one cable N.N.E. of the large white rock, Ramree harbour.

This beacon—which consists of an iron tripod, carrying a drum and painted red—was intended to have been placed on Flat Reef, which is a large bank of boulders separated from the Dragon shoal by deep water.

Note.—Further notice will be given when the beacon is shifted to its right position.

CHEDUBA STRAIT.

Also, with reference to this Department Notice to Mariners, No. 58, of 21st October 1886, on the breaking adrift of the Central Shoal buoy, northern approach to the Cheduba Strait:—

Further notice has been given that the buoy painted red, and surmounted with a staff and basket, has been replaced on the northern edge of the Central Shoal, North side of the Fairway, in 8 fathoms at low-water spring tides, and lies with the following bearings and distances:—

Rocky Point beacon	...	N. W. distant $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles.
Dark hill (wooded)	...	N. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. " $2\frac{1}{2}$ "
Old beacon (on next point)	...	N. E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. " 1 mile (nearly.)

As a guide to vessels approaching the Cheduba Strait from the northward, and in order to distinguish Beacon island from the other islands, a small beacon has been erected on the summit off the East end of Beacon island, N. W. side of Cheduba island.

Note.—Steam-ships approaching from the northward may steer direct for the Central Shoal buoy on a bearing E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. in line with the highest summit of the Ramree hills, then pass 2 cables to the South of it, and keep it just open of Rocky point until the leading mark for hauling to the southward comes on, viz., the dark wooded hill bearing N. N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W.

The beacons, on Rocky point and on the West side of the next point to the eastward, are 30 feet high, constructed of poles with baskets, and are painted white.

The bearings are magnetic.

Directions of the Tidal Streams.

INFORMATION has been received from the Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India that from observations taken on board the Indian Marine Surveying steamer Investigator in January 1887, on a line between the China Ba-keer light-house and Kalegonk island, the direction of the streams were found to be always to or from the centre of the Salwin or Maulmain river, there being no circular set. At springs there was a slack water of half an hour corresponding in time to the high and low water times at Amherst (entrance to Maulmain river—see tide tables), and the maximum current, flood or ebb, was $3\frac{1}{2}$ knots, which is probably exceeded in the wet season.

Dangerous rocks on the beaten track.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has given notice in reference to searches having been made of the position and existence of the undermentioned rocks lying in the fairway track through the Mergui Archipelago:—

Peterson rock.—This rock, which dries at low-water spring tides, is described as a pinnacle, lying one mile N. W. of West Passage Island on the N. E. side of Lord William Bentinck Island.

Warning rock.—Is situated in the same locality, but a little to the northward of Lord William Bentinck Island, and was found to lie half a mile East of its charted position; there being no dangers off the East side of West Passage Island.

Fly rock.—A very dangerous rocky pinnacle about 30 feet in extent, with perpendicular sides, is awash at low-water spring tides; but it seldom makes any ripple in the fine season. It lies with the following bearings and distances:—

West extreme of Bushby Island	South, distant 6 miles.
S. E. point of Lord William Bentinck Island...	N. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.,	" 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ "
Fly islet (40 feet high, small)	S. E. by E., " 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ "

Note.—To clear this danger, Mariners are cautioned to keep the S. E. point of Lord William Bentinck Island touching the West side of South Passage Island (East side of Lord William Bentinck Island), which line leads one mile West of it; or keep the Father and Son (West side of Sir Edward Owen's Island), showing to westward of the conical rock immediately off Bushby Island; or especially during thick weather the whole of the conical rock properly open of Bushby Island, will clear the Fly rock by half a mile to westward.

A shoal off High Island.—The shoal reported three miles N. N. E. of High island (N. E. side of Sullivan's Island or Lampees) was not found; depths of 20 fathoms were obtained everywhere for a mile round the position assigned, and overfalls and tide-rips being numerous North of High Island.

A rock.—This danger, which is situated in the East side of the Forrest's Strait, and dries at low-water spring tides, lies a quarter of a mile North of Canister rock.

Marble rock.—Reported to exist 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles N. N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. from the northern island of The Gregorys Group, was searched for in vain, although drags were used extensively over the vicinity. A coral patch, with the least depth of one fathom at low-water spring tides, was, however, found 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles N. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. of the northern island of The Gregorys, and which is considered probably to be the same danger.

Boyce shoal.—An unsuccessful search was made for the reported danger stated to lie about 2 miles East of the main body of The Gregorys; the existence of the shoal, therefore, must be considered very doubtful.

Kurrachee rock.—A small pinnacle rock, standing in 16 fathoms, and dries 5 feet at low-water spring tides, lies with the followings bearings and distances:—

Red point (on the mainland)	E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N., distant 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles.
Turret Island	S. E. by S., " 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ "
South point of the biggest island of The Gregorys	W. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.,	" 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ "
South island of The Gregorys	S W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W., " 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ "

Note.—A rock has been placed one mile N. N. E. of the above position, but it does not exist, and should be expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Directions—Western Channel.—The channel West of The Gregorys in Forrest's Strait is not recommended until a larger scale chart is published. Eastern Channel.—Mariners, when proceeding through, should keep in mid-channel between The Gregorys and the main land bearing in mind that Sir Robert Campbell's reef, which lies 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles South of Canister Island, covers at high-water; this track, therefore, leads through in 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms at low-water. It is high-water full and change at 10h. 30m., and the average rise of springs is 13 to 16 feet more than the above depth; and a vessel by keeping in soundings under 10 fathoms at any time of tide will be well clear of the Kurrachee rock.

The bearings are magnetic.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED RULES UNDER THE NEW PETROLEUM ACT, XII OF 1886.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 8 and 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1886, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum :—

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules, and defined in the Act, shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules "petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment of such description as the Local Government may from time to time by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Testing Officer appointed by Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot—

- (a) What quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying.
- (b) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is dangerous.
- (c) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is certificated.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated, he shall produce to the pilot the certificate covering the same.

3. If the petroleum is in iron drums with a certified flashing point above 80° by Abel's test and does not exceed 5,000 gallons in quantity,

Or if it is petroleum which has been certified not to be dangerous under section 9 of the Act, and has come from a port in British India as part of a general cargo, and the quantity does not exceed 5,000 gallons,

Or if it is certificated petroleum not exceeding 5,000 gallons in quantity and the master produces the certificate to the pilot,

Or if it is dangerous or uncertificated petroleum not exceeding 40 gallons in quantity, the ship may proceed to any mooring in the port and there discharge the petroleum.

4. Any ship having on board a larger quantity of petroleum than is allowed under rule 3 shall not proceed upwards further than Budge-Budge, and such petroleum, whether landed at the petroleum wharf or otherwise discharged, shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 5 of the Petroleum Act, or the issue of a certificate under section 9, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

5. (1) When a ship is stopped at Budge-Budge under rule 4, the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf shall, as soon as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed or discharged into boats, obtain samples of all the oil thus landed or discharged.

(2) Every different quality of oil shall be separately sampled, and when oil is represented to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as may be necessary, shall forward them to the Testing Officer for report.

6. The Testing Officer shall, as soon as practicable, and ordinarily within 24 hours, after the receipt of the samples, sign a report certifying that they are, or are not, dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and shall forward such report to the office of the Port Commissioners, sending also a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police of Calcutta.

7. No petroleum shall be removed from the wharf limits at Budge-Budge until it has been certified to be not dangerous, except in accordance with a license granted under section 5 of the Act.

8. Unless with the written permission of the Commissioners, no petroleum shall be discharged or landed within the port of Calcutta, except between day-light and dark, and at the wharves expressly set apart for the landing of petroleum.

9. The fee for sampling and testing petroleum shall be five rupees for each sample tested.

10. No smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed at the Budge-Budge Petroleum Wharf, and no receptacle containing petroleum shall be opened or the contents drawn off, within the bunds enclosing the sheds constructed for the storage of petroleum, except in such special place or places in the depôt as may be set apart by the Port Commissioners for that purpose.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

11. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall, on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 5 or section 6 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

12. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores, and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum, manifested as ship's stores, is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta, and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere, shall be final.

Possession of Petroleum.

13. The following rules shall extend, so far as they apply to dangerous petroleum, to all the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and so far as they apply to other petroleum, only to—

14. Licenses for the possession of petroleum within the town of Calcutta shall be granted only when—(1) the quantity of petroleum to be kept in one place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, and (2) the place intended to be used for the keeping of the petroleum fulfils the following conditions, viz:—(a) If the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 5,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire. 15. Licenses for the possession of petroleum outside the town of Calcutta shall, if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, be granted on the same terms as those granted in Calcutta for the possession in one place of not more than 5,000 gallons. The Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police, or any police officer of or above the rank of head-constable appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may enter any place in respect of which a license for the possession of petroleum has been granted, for the purpose of inspecting the same at any time after sunrise and before sunset.

17. The Magistrate of the district, Commissioner of Police, or any police officer as aforesaid may require a sample to be delivered to him from any receptacle containing petroleum stored in any licensed premises. The procedure prescribed in sections 12, 13, and 14 of the Act shall apply to any demand for samples made under this rule and to the testing of such samples.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FRAME RULES UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT XII OF 1886.

WE, the members of the Committee appointed at the 479th Meeting of the Commissioners to consider and report upon the rules for the importation, transport, and storage of petroleum under Act XII of 1886, have the honour to submit the following report:—

Meetings of the Committee were held on the 28th June, and on the 5th and 7th of July.

The general tendency of the alterations which we have suggested is in the direction of relaxing the restrictions provided by the existing rules. We think that the experience of the last five years has shown that some precautions, which were thought necessary when the Act of 1881 was passed, may be dispensed with, and we desire to leave the trade as free as is compatible with public safety.

The rules fall under three general heads—importation, transport, and possession. The matters in respect of which rules may be made to regulate the importation of petroleum are specified in section 9 of the Act; rules relating to transport and possession fall under section 11.

In the preliminary section, we have substituted the testing officer appointed by Government for the Chemical Examiner to Government. This brings the rule into accordance with the wording of the Act, and the Chemical Examiner will not necessarily be the testing officer. He will probably be appointed in the first instance, but it will perhaps hereafter be found convenient to have a resident testing officer at Budge-Budge, so as to avoid the delay of sending the oil up to Calcutta to be tested.

In rule 3 we have raised the quantity of certificated petroleum which may be brought into the Port as part of a general cargo to 5,000 gallons. It has been represented to us that coasting steamers sometimes bring to Calcutta oil which has already passed the test at Bombay or elsewhere, and we think it unnecessary that such oil should be tested again. If the quantity is limited to 5,000 gallons, we think there is no danger of this liberty being abused.

Section 8 of the Act contemplates the possibility of the petroleum being discharged into boats instead of being landed, and we have modified the wording of rule 5 accordingly.

Rule 7 provides for a contingency which is apparently not covered by section 9 of the Act, and we therefore think the rule is necessary.

Rule 8 is intended to apply to the landing of petroleum both at the Budge-Budge wharf and at such other landing places within the Port as may be set aside for the landing of petroleum. We do not think that vessels which bring up 5,000 gallons of oil under rule 3 should be permitted to discharge the oil except at proper times and at suitable places.

The Act contemplates the fixing of fees for the sampling and testing of petroleum, and we accordingly give power in rule 9 to fix the fee at Rs. 5 for each sample tested. But we are disposed to think it unnecessary that this power should be exercised. The amount realized from such fees would be scarcely Rs. 1,000 a year, and it is not worth while, for so small a sum, to levy a charge which would certainly be unpopular, and might in some cases be troublesome to collect. We understand that no fees are charged at present for testing oil, and we recommend that Government should be asked to continue to allow the oil to be tested free of charge.

We have extended the rules for the possession of petroleum to the area at Budge-Budge surrounding the Commissioners' wharf and sheds. We think it undesirable, and indeed dangerous, that large quantities of petroleum should be stored in the immediate vicinity of the Commissioners' sheds, except under the precautions provided by the rules.

In rule 19 we have left the charge for storage licenses as it stands at present. The scale was fixed after full and long discussion, and though we understand that the dealers complain of it as too high, we have not found sufficient grounds for altering it. The matter appears to us of less importance, because it is in contemplation to levy a municipal tax of 2 annas a case on all petroleum stored in the town, and if this proposal takes effect, the municipal tax will presumably be substituted for the present license fee.

Rule 23 declares that no license shall be required for the Port Commissioners' storage sheds at Budge-Budge or elsewhere. It is clearly unnecessary that these sheds, which are erected for the public convenience, should be licensed.

In the rules regarding transport, we have found it necessary to make special provision for the case of transport by carts. A cart does not take so much as 500 gallons of oil, and therefore no license is required for it; but the Advocate-General has given an opinion that a batch or string of carts, starting together, and conveying oil which is the property of one person, must be licensed. We propose to allow the owner of the oil to take out a general license, which shall be in force for 12 months, and to give passes to the cartmen who are in actual charge of the petroleum. A fee of Rs. 100 will be charged for such a general license. At the same time, we are of opinion that the earliest opportunity should be taken to vest Government with the power to free carts from the necessity for being licensed when carrying non-dangerous petroleum, not only because we are strongly of opinion that there is no necessity for interfering with the movement of non-dangerous petroleum when moved in quantities under 500 gallons on each cart, but also because the licensing of carts would lead to much public inconvenience, and probably be used as a means for extortion and oppression by native policemen. For special licenses, which will generally be for transport by boat, we have reduced the amount of the fee from Re. 1 per 1,000 gallons to Re. 1 per 5,000 gallons. We have authorized the Port Commissioners to grant transport licenses at Budge-Budge. It will manifestly be the most convenient plan that an owner who wishes to remove his oil from the sheds, should be able to obtain a license on the spot from the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf.

We recommend that the rules, as now revised, should be sent to the Commissioner of Police for communication to the Legal Remembrancer.

PART III.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, received the assent of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on the 15th January 1887, and having received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on 31st idem, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT No. I OF 1887.

An Act to provide for a Survey of the Town of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the survey and demarcation of lands in the Town of Calcutta, it is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act shall be called "The Calcutta Survey Act, 1887," and shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

It extends to the Town of Calcutta within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Survey" includes identification of boundaries and all other operations antecedent to, or connected with, survey.

"Superintendent" means the Superintendent of Survey under this Act.

"Land" includes anything attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Premises" means any land described as such in the Registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta or as a holding in the Registers of the Calcutta Collectorate.

"Owner" includes—

- (a) the person having permanent interest in any land or premises ;
- (b) an agent of, or manager on behalf of, such person ;
- (c) a trustee of such person ;
- (d) a body corporate in which land is vested by operation of Statute.

3. The Local Government may, whenever it thinks fit, order, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in the Town of Calcutta, and for such purpose may appoint a Superintendent of Survey and one or more Assistant Superintendents of Survey. The Assistant Superintendents of Survey shall exercise such powers as may be delegated to them by the Superintendent.

4. The Superintendent of Survey shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power either by himself or by an Assistant Superintendent of Survey, or by other officers employed in the survey, to enter between the hours of sunrise and sunset, upon any land or premises within the local limits aforesaid, without being liable to any legal proceedings whatsoever on account of such entry, or of anything done on such land or premises in pursuance of this Act.

Provided that no such entry shall be made upon lands or premises which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof or without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of the intention to do so.

5. Before entering on any land or premises for the purposes of survey, the Superintendent may cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner of the land or premises about to be surveyed, and on the owners of conterminous lands or premises, calling upon them to attend either personally or by agent on such land or premises before him or before such officer as may be authorized by him in that behalf, within a specified time (which shall not be less than three days after the service of such notice), for the purpose of pointing out boundaries, and of affording such information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act, and every person on whom such notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice and to give any information which may be required so far as he may be able to give it.

6. If after due service of notice under the last preceding section, any person fails to appear without showing sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Superintendent, the Superintendent, or such officer as may be authorized by him, may proceed with the survey, and the person who is so absent shall be bound by the results of the survey in the same manner and to the same extent as if the survey were made in his presence.

7. If in the course of survey it shall come to the notice of the Superintendent that a dispute exists as to any boundaries which should be surveyed, the Superintendent shall cause an inquiry to be held by an Assistant Superintendent, as hereinafter provided, for the purpose of determining such boundaries.

8. When any dispute exists as to any boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent who may be authorized by the Superintendent in this behalf shall cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the parties concerned requiring them to appear before him in person, or by an authorized agent on a specified day, and to produce evidence of possession of the land in dispute. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the specified day, or on such other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, hear the parties, receive the evidence produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence as he may think necessary, and without reference to the merits of the claim of any of such parties to a right to possess the land in dispute, decide which of the parties is in possession of the said land at the time of the survey.

9. For the purposes of the enquiry aforesaid, the Assistant Superintendent shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

10. After the enquiry has been completed, the Assistant Superintendent shall pass an order in writing, defining clearly the subject of dispute and shall record his decision and the reasons for such decision.

11. An appeal shall lie from any order passed by an Assistant Superintendent, under the last preceding section to the Board of Revenue, or to such other authority as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint in this behalf, if preferred within thirty days from the date of such order.

12. In every case of disputed boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent authorized to hold the enquiry may, on the written application of the parties, refer the dispute to one or more arbitrators nominated by the parties respectively, and shall fix such time, and allow such extension of time, as may seem reasonable for the delivery of the award:

Provided that if it appears to the Assistant Superintendent that the Local Government or the Corporation of Calcutta is interested in any such dispute, he shall appoint in the former case, the Collector, or Deputy Collector, of Calcutta, and in the latter case, the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Surveyor of the Corporation, one of the arbitrators, unless the parties agree to such officer being appointed sole arbitrator.

13. Where an arbitrator nominated by a party refuses to act or becomes incapable of acting by reason of death or other sufficient cause, the party by whom he was nominated may, by a written application to the Assistant Superintendent, nominate another arbitrator, and on being satisfied that the application has been made on sufficient grounds, he shall confirm such nomination, and the arbitrator so appointed may thereupon proceed with the enquiry.

14. If the arbitrators differ, the award shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority; if they are equally divided in opinion, it shall be competent to them or to the Assistant Superintendent, on the written application of the arbitrators or of the parties to the arbitration to appoint an umpire, and the decision of the umpire determining the boundaries in dispute shall have the force of an award of the arbitrators.

15. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the application of the arbitrators or umpire, issue the same processes to parties and witnesses as he may issue in enquiries held by himself.

16. If the arbitrators or the umpire appointed under the preceding sections fail to deliver the award within the time allowed by the Assistant Superintendent, he may make an order super-seding the arbitration, and in such case he shall proceed with the enquiry.

17. The award shall be made in writing, and shall be signed by the persons making it, and shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent with any evidence which may have been taken by the arbitrators or the umpire. The Superintendent shall lay down the boundaries in accordance with the award.

18. The Superintendent may at any time cause to be erected on any land which is to be, or has been, surveyed under this Act, temporary or permanent boundary marks of such materials and in such number and manner as he may determine to be sufficient.

19. When any temporary boundary mark has been erected under the last preceding section, the Superintendent may cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner or person in occupation of the land or premises whereon, or adjoining which, such boundary mark is situate, requiring him to maintain and keep in repair such boundary mark till the survey has been completed.

20. After the survey of any part of the Town has been completed, the Superintendent shall deposit all maps, field books, proceedings, awards, and all other documents connected with the survey of such part in the Municipal Office of the Corporation of Calcutta.

Any person interested in the survey may, at any time within two months from the date of such deposit, which date shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette, inspect such documents free of charge.

And if during such period any objection to the survey be lodged with the Superintendent, such objection shall be decided by the Superintendent or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

21. After all objections lodged under the last preceding section have been decided, the Local Government shall, if it approves the survey, signify such approval by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

22. No suit shall lie to set aside any demarcation of boundaries made under the provisions of this Act unless brought within one year from the date of the notification mentioned in the last preceding section.

23. The Local Government may lay down rules not being inconsistent with this Act to provide for the preparation of maps and for the collection and record of any information in respect of any land to be surveyed under this Act, and generally for the proper performance of all things to be done and for the regulation of all proceedings to be taken under this Act.

24. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served on any person may be served—

(a)—by delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person usually resides or holds his office, or carries on his business, or by delivering the same to an agent or servant of such person, or to a male adult member of his family and by fixing a copy on some conspicuous part of the land or premises to which it relates, or

(b)—by sending a registered cover through the post office containing such notice directed to the said person at the place where he resides:

Provided that after the publication of the notification referred to in section 21, no survey made under this Act shall be vitiated for any defect in the service of notice.

25. Whoever fails to comply with a requisition contained in any notice duly served under section 5 or section 8 of this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

26. No proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of any informality, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of the omission to serve any notice on an owner whose name is not registered as owner in the Calcutta Collectorate or in the registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta.

27. The Local Government may extend the whole or any of the provisions of this Act to the whole or any part of the Suburbs of Calcutta, which may hereafter be amalgamated for municipal purposes with the Town of Calcutta.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1885-86.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 2nd February 1887.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1885-86.

This report, which is not dated, was received more than three months after the day on which it was due, and no sufficient explanation has been offered of the delay. It is submitted by Mr. A. W. Croft, who was on furlough during the period to which it relates, and returned in July last, relieving Mr. Tawney. This fact may to some extent account for the time spent in its preparation, but the Lieutenant Governor hopes that in future punctuality will be observed, even where, owing to a change of officers, or any such cause, there is some difficulty in getting the work ready by the time prescribed. The report is clear, full, and as concise as is consistent with the inclusion of a vast number of details, its bulk having been reduced from 155 pages in 1883-84 to 128 pages. Such a report received on the proper date would be deserving of unmixed commendation.

General summary.

The most noteworthy fact in the educational history of the year is the disappearance from the returns of the department, and the removal from departmental control, of 15,104 schools and 112,151 pupils. The decrease is under the heading of lower primary schools, and its causes will be discussed in the paragraph of the Resolution dealing with that branch of popular education. In so far as the decrease is not nominal, it is due to the exclusion, under recent orders, of new and untried schools from the returns; also of schools with less than 10 pupils. In all classes of schools other than lower primary, satisfactory progress has been made, especially in English schools, both high and middle, and in the upper section of primary schools. The increase of 23 shown under schools of special instruction is really reducible to 5, 18 Mahomedan maktabs of a special character having been erroneously included under this head. Among private institutions not conforming to departmental standards, there is a large increase in those teaching Arabic and Persian, but a still larger falling off in those that teach Sanskrit. The loss has been confined to the Patna Division, where more than 500 tols with less than ten pupils apiece have been excluded from the returns—unnecessarily, as the Director points out, since that restriction was intended to apply only to public primary schools seeking aid from the grant for primary education.

3. The actual receipts and expenditure of the Education Department was in very close accordance with the revised estimates published in the Financial Resolution of this Government, dated the 31st August 1886. In 1884-85 the sanctioned expenditure was Rs. 34,07,000, and the actual expenditure Rs. 34,00,000. The estimates for 1885-86 were originally fixed at Rs. 33,87,000, and were reduced after the beginning of the year to Rs. 33,07,000. Through the vigilant control exercised by Mr. Tawney over the expenditure of the department, a still further saving of Rs. 22,400 was effected on this reduced estimate. Receipts, however, fell short of the estimate of Rs. 5,68,000 by Rs. 29,400, so that the net Government expenditure exceeded the estimate by Rs. 7,000. The chief savings in expenditure were effected under the heads of primary education and of Government colleges, general and professional. The chief falling off in receipts is found under the head of municipal contributions to Government schools, which were estimated at Rs. 20,000, but realised only Rs. 6,600. The Director points out that two years ago the receipts from municipalities under this head amounted to Rs. 12,000, and a complaint is implied in his remark that the income from that source instead of advancing has gone back. The maintenance of all middle vernacular schools within municipal limits has recently been transferred to Municipal Boards, and Government no longer pays any portion of their cost. Further steps are now being taken to enforce the same principle. The Director's report shows, however, that if schools under private as well as under public management be taken into account, the contributions of Municipalities towards their support have risen from Rs. 71,400 to Rs. 74,600, of which Rs. 6,600 were paid to schools under departmental control, Rs. 11,100 to schools managed by Municipal Boards, and Rs. 56,900 to schools under private management.

4. The expenditure of the department from all sources, public and private, during the last two years, is shown in the subjoined table, which is taken from the departmental returns. It includes charges for medical education and for buildings, which are not included in the educational estimates, and the totals consequently differ from those given in the last paragraph :—

	YEAR 1884-85.		YEAR 1885-86.

	30,80,000	78,15,000	29,90,000	76,43,000

The Government expenditure has decreased by Rs. 90,000, owing to the reductions effected during the year, and the total expenditure by Rs. 1,67,000, owing to the exclusion of 15,000 small schools from the returns. There has been a decrease of Rs. 12,000 under collegiate education, of Rs. 64,000 under primary instruction, and of Rs. 80,000 under buildings. The only large increase in Government expenditure is found under the head of Superintendence, and arises from the increase of the salary of third grade Sub-Inspectors from Rs. 30 to Rs. 50, and the appointment of Assistant Inspectors for the Burdwan, Dacca and Rajshahye Divisions. In the fee-receipts of the Department there has been an increase of Rs. 7,500 in high schools, of Rs. 4,500 in other schools, and of Rs. 1,000 in schools of law, medicine, and engineering, which has been counterbalanced by a loss of Rs. 13,500 in college-fees, due to the temporary withdrawal of second and fourth-year students after the completion of their two-years' course. This resulted, as in the previous year, from the recent change in the date of the University examinations, the effect of which has now ceased. The proportion of the Government expenditure on education to its total cost was 39·1 per cent., which is slightly below what it was in the previous year.

5. Under the orders of the Government of India, a separate section of the report is now devoted to the measures that have been taken during the year to carry out the recommendations of the Education Commission. The following are the chief:—The recognition and encouragement of Sanskrit tols, the highest class of indigenous schools in these provinces, has long formed an integral part of the educational system of Bengal; and the papers relating to a proposal for giving increased aid and support to these institutions have lately been published for general information. The inspection and examination of primary schools in situ is being carried out to the utmost extent possible with the present limited agency; the position of the subordinate inspecting officers has been much improved, and some additions have been made to their number. In the field of secondary education the proposal to establish an alternative standard at the Entrance examination, in the future interests of technical instruction, has been referred to the University. The Lieutenant-Governor has notified that on the 1st May 1887, the Berhampore and Midnapore Colleges will be transferred with specified grants to private management, or in default of any suitable offer to take them over, will be closed. The Midnapore College will be transferred to the local Municipality; and the Lieutenant-Governor has been gratified to learn that proposals will shortly be made from more than one quarter to take over the management of the Korbampore College. A college under private management has recently been opened at Narail in Jessore, in connection with the successful high school long established there; and an additional grant-in-aid of Rs. 100 a month has been sanctioned for the support of the college classes. The fact, remarked on by the Commission, that no aided colleges have hitherto sprung up in the interior of Bengal outside Calcutta is due, in Sir Rivers Thompson's opinion, to no insufficiency in the scale of grants-in-aid authorised by existing rules, but rather to the practice of requiring a fee of Rs. 5 a month to be levied in all colleges applying for Government aid; while the example of private institutions in Calcutta, which uniformly charge a fee of Rs. 3, shows that the former limit is too high. The rule has been relaxed in favour of the Narail College, in which the proposed rate of Rs. 3 has been accepted. In matters relating to the internal administration of the Department, the recommendation of the Commission that native gentlemen of approved qualifications should be employed as Inspectors of Schools has been carried out by the appointment of Baboo Radhika Prasanna Mookerjee to officiate as Inspector of the Presidency Circle and by his promotion to the superior grades of the Department. The Lieutenant-Governor has learnt with pleasure from another portion of the report, that this officer has fully justified the action of the Government in thus promoting him. Conferences of departmental officers, either alone or in conjunction with managers of private schools, have been held during the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor has ordered that another, under the presidency of the Director of Public Instruction, shall be held this cold weather, at which, among other things, the grant-in-aid rules and many important questions connected with female education will be discussed. The appointment of two additional Inspectresses of Schools was recommended; but financial exigencies made it impossible to carry out the proposal. The education of Muhammadans has received careful attention; and Sir Rivers Thompson has recently sanctioned the creation of 20 special scholarships awardable to Muhammadan students on the results of the Entrance, of 20 on the results of the F. A., and of two on those of the B. A. Examination. The appointment of two Muhammadan Assistant Inspectors on salaries of Rs. 200 to Rs. 300 a month has also been recommended to the Government of India. The rules published under the Local Self-Government Act in the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th February 1886 provide for the transfer to District Boards of the allotments for primary education and primary scholarships within the area under their control, of the grant-in-aid allotment for certain classes of schools, and of the net grants to all Government schools that are placed under the direct management of the Board. These rules are now in force in the 16 districts to which the Act has been applied.

6. By the appointment during the past year of Assistant-Inspectors

for the Burdwan, Dacca, and Rajshahye Divisions, every division in Bengal has now a Joint or Assistant Inspector of its own, acting under the orders of, and in close communication with, the Circle Inspector. The Government of Bengal in fact looked forward to this result when first sanctioning the appointment of Assistant Inspectors in 1878, in view of the increased demands made on the attention of Circle Inspectors by the growth of primary as well as secondary schools of all grades. The educational policy followed in Bengal in past years has been uniformly guided by the principle that the inspecting, and especially the superior inspecting staff of the Department must be maintained at the highest possible level of intelligence, efficiency, and administrative power, in the belief that only through the vigilant control exercised by such an agency can the stability of schools and their continued progress be secured, and at the same time an assurance be gained that whatever funds the Government may be able to allot to education are laid out to the best advantage. The maintenance of that policy has derived special importance in Bengal from the recent enlargement of the field of primary education, which, though under the immediate control of the District Magistrates, has needed all the care and attention which the officers of the Department have been able to give to it in the last ten years, and in which, with its transfer to District Boards, a new set of labourers are now about to take up unaccustomed work. In the following estimate of the importance of an Inspector's duties the Lieutenant-Governor fully concurs:—

The functions of an Inspector of Schools are extensive and varied. In addition to the duties of inspection and examination, which alone are implied in the office as it is understood in England, a Circle Inspector in Bengal has administrative duties of a large and responsible kind, involving, on one hand, the control of subordinate officers of established position as teachers or inspectors, and on the other the conduct of affairs, requiring business capacity and a conciliatory spirit with independent persons or bodies. For the continued efficiency of our educational organisation, it is necessary to exercise the most vigilant care in the selection of officers who are entrusted with duties so important.

Sir Rivers Thompson has read with pleasure the encomium which the Director proceeds to pass upon the work of several of the chief inspecting officers of the Department. The proved success of the educational system in Bengal affords additional testimony to the services rendered by Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors, and to the cordial spirit in which they co-operate with Magistrates and other civil officers interested, equally with themselves, in the progress of education as one of the main branches of sound administration. In this place the Lieutenant-Governor takes the opportunity to call the attention of the Director to Recommendation 14 of the Education Commission, on the subject of the preparation of a Code for the guidance of inspecting officers, which has already been commended to his notice.

7. The work done by Deputy Inspectors maintains the high level of the previous year. The prescribed term of 150 days on tour has been reached by all except nine officers out of 43. The average is highest in the Bhagulpore Division, with 192 days; and the Deputy Inspectors of the Presidency, Patna, and Chota Nagpore Divisions have spent respectively 185, 183, and 179 days on tour. The three officers of the Chittagong Division show an average of only 146 days, but each was on leave for two or three months in the year. Satisfactory explanations of short work have been furnished in the case of five out of the remaining six officers. The Deputy Inspector of Dacca was on tour for only 119 days, and the fact that for two months he was officiating as Assistant Inspector cannot be regarded as affording a sufficient explanation of his want of activity. There has been some decline in the number of days spent on tour by Sub-Inspectors. The prescribed term of 200 days has been exceeded in six divisions of Bengal—the Presidency, Dacca, and Orissa Divisions standing highest with 227, 231, and 241 days respectively; but in the Bhagulpore and Chota Nagpore Divisions an average of only 197 days has been reached, and in the Patna Division it falls to 184 days. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in the remark of the Director that there seems to be no sufficient reason for the very indifferent record of work shown by the Sub-Inspectors of the Patna Division, where travelling presents no special difficulties, and where, nevertheless, only seven out of 24 officers have come up to the required standard.

8. The employment of chief gurus or of inspecting pundits, or of some combination of the two, as a subordinate inspecting agency, is now in force in almost every district which has a large number of primary schools. In the Dacca Division the chief guru system is said to be open to the charge that some of the gurus neglect their own patshalas in order to earn the allowance granted for visiting schools, and their inspection is also reported to be superficial. Much colour is lent to this complaint by the record of work in the Chittagong and Orissa Divisions, where the chief gurus are said to have paid about 550 visits each on the average during the year. "It is quite clear," Mr Croft remarks, "that the guru's own school must suffer when the principle of periodical visits for purposes of help and guidance is carried to such excessive lengths. A special report will in future be called for as to the success of these presumably neglected schools in the examinations of their class." The fault here pointed out can only be attributed to defective supervision, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that local officers will not suffer a system of inspection which, within due limits, is a simple and useful one to degenerate into a scramble for travelling allowances.

9. The number of colleges has increased from 25 to 26, owing to the opening of a small college class in connection with St. Paul's School, Darjeeling. The number of students on the rolls of all colleges was greater on the 31st March 1886 than at any previous time, having advanced during the year from 2,779 to 2,998. In Government and in aided colleges the numbers are nearly stationary, the increase having been confined to unaided colleges, and chiefly to the Metropolitan and Ripon Colleges of Calcutta, the Burdwan Maharajah's College, and the Jagannath College of Dacca, the last two of which teach up to the First Arts standard only. The increasing success of the Calcutta colleges under private management has again tended to reduce the numbers in the Presidency College, which fell to 180, against 204 in 1885, and 343 in 1883. The small decrease in the attendance of the Dacca College is explained by the very successful start which the Jagannath College has made. There is a large proportionate increase in the numbers of the Patna College and the Ravenshaw College at Cuttack,—a satisfactory result in view of the progress and the requirements of Behar and Orissa. The General Assembly's College in Calcutta is rapidly regaining its old position. The total annual cost and the cost to Government of each student in Government colleges fell from Rs. 366 to Rs. 354, and from Rs. 269 to Rs. 267 respectively. There is a similar decrease in the returns of private colleges generally, except in the Doveton, where the cost of each student to Government has risen from Rs. 57 to Rs. 125, the Government grant having been slightly raised, while the average attendance has fallen one-half. The colleges of the ordinary type in which the education of each student costs most to Government are the Presidency (Rs. 388), the Ravenshaw College at Cuttack (Rs. 361), and the Berhampore College (Rs. 393). The maintenance, even at a high cost, of the Ravenshaw College, in which the number of students is still very small, is justified by the exceptional circumstances of Orissa; and the cost of the Berhampore College will disappear or be largely reduced with its transfer to a private body of managers. Of an exceptional kind are the Bethune School (Rs. 620), the Sanskrit College (Rs. 397), and the Calcutta Madrasa (Rs. 991). But these last institutions exist for other purposes than the maintenance of the small college classes attached to them; and the high rates quoted are apparently due to the fact that in each case the whole salary of the Principal is wrongly debited to the highest section of the college instead of being distributed over the whole institution.

10. The Presidency College may be regarded as a genuine teaching University of the historical type, in which students have the opportunity of acquiring instruction in many branches of literature and science up to the highest standard now attainable in India. The maintenance of this institution, as long as no private college teaching up to the same standard can be obtained, is justified, in Sir Rivers Thompson's opinion, by political and administrative considerations that are practically unaffected by a rise or fall in the number of its ordinary students, or by fluctuations in its cost from year to year. A large proportion of its students will always be pass-men; but though the high fees which they pay help to reduce the cost of a necessarily expensive institution, it is not for their benefit that the college is maintained, since they might be educated elsewhere. It is the Honour students—those who take the degree of B. A. in honours or the higher degree of M. A.—who represent the true life of the college, and by whom its existence is justified. It is desirable that the State should provide education for men of this stamp as long as the best instruction cannot be obtained from other sources; for such men frequently become the leaders of the community, and their education to a high standard is a public gain. The increasing success of non-Government institutions at the First Arts and B. A. examinations, to which the Director draws prominent attention, affords a clear proof that in the lower forms of collegiate education at any rate, the private enterprise of the country is gradually taking a predominant position. In 1886 the number of students passing the F. A. examination from Government Colleges and from those under private management were 244 and 387 respectively; at the B. A. pass examination the corresponding numbers were 81 and 201. In the B. A. Honour and in the M. A. lists the proportion is reversed: at the former examination 68 passed from Government and 41 from private institutions; at the latter the number was 21 and 9 respectively. Facts of this kind, as well as considerations of a more general nature, clearly indicate the limits within which, in Sir Rivers Thompson's opinion, the direct agency of Government should tend to confine itself. Primary schools have always in Bengal been indigenous institutions, needing only the support and encouragement necessary for their multiplication to a degree sufficient to provide for the educational wants of the whole population of a school-going age, instead of, as at present, for a small minority; of secondary schools, English and vernacular, only a small proportion are maintained by the Government, namely, one-twelfth of the former and one-sixth of the latter class; and it has just been shown that the number of students passing the First Arts examination from institutions under private management exceeds by more than one half the number passing from Government colleges. The Lieutenant-Governor finds in these considerations additional grounds for the opinion he expressed in the Resolution on the Report for 1884-85; and he trusts that, at no very distant date, it may be possible to confine the more direct operations of Government, if these are in any degree to be continued, to the provision of education for the highest class of students in the country—to those who will themselves become independent workers in their own special lines of study and research. And even in this sphere it is evident that private enterprise can compete not unsuccessfully with the more expensive Government agency.

11 The Government of India, in communicating approval of the action taken by the Lieutenant-Governor in regard to the transfer of the Midnapore and Berhampore Colleges, expressed the trust of the Governor-General in Council that it may be found possible at no far distant period, and without detriment to the true interests of higher literary education in Bengal, to carry still further the policy of the gradual transfer to independent management of the Government Colleges and other higher educational institutions of this province. A report from the Director of Public Instruction upon this subject is awaited. Meanwhile, it is observed that the following information, extracted from the report, shows that there has been an improvement during the year in the working of those colleges, as to the continuance of which on their present footing doubts have been raised:—

There has thus been in every case an improvement in the result of examinations, and an increase in the number on the rolls except at Rajshahye and Dacca. On the other hand a still greater progress was made by the only two colleges opened by private enterprise in the interior—the Maharajah's at Purdwan, and the Jagannath at Dacca; in the former the number of students increased from 97 to 142, that of persons passing the F. A. examination from 29 to 37, while at the Jagannath College there were 112 students in 1886 against 48 in 1885, and 28 passed against 8. The figures here given must be taken in correction of those incorporated in the Resolution on the Administration Report of the Dacca Division, but they point to the same conclusion, that the Jagannath College is to some extent superseding the lower division of the Government College at Dacca. The general inference would seem to be that private persons are quite competent to manage education in the interior up to the F. A. standard, as they are in Calcutta able to arrange for the highest class of instruction.

12. These are now held at the beginning of April, and for this reason no account of the examinations of 1885 was furnished in the report of the previous year. In the present report, however, the Director has thought it right to depart from the precedent of 1884-85 and the returns of the examinations of 1885 and of 1886 are accordingly submitted, although the latter was not held within the strict limits of the year under report. At the First Arts examination, Government colleges passed 58 per cent. of their candidates in each year; from aided colleges 40 per cent. passed in 1885 and 45 per cent. in 1886; and from unaided colleges 39 per cent. passed in 1885 and 49 per cent. in 1886. In the number of candidates passing in the first division the Government colleges take the highest place, especially the Presidency, Hooghly, and Dacca Colleges. The Metropolitan Institution, and the General Assembly's, St. Xavier's and Free Church Colleges follow close behind. The Jagannath College of Dacca passed 8 candidates at this examination in 1885, and 28 in 1886.

13. At the B. A. examination of 1885, 242 candidates out of 241 passed, or 72 per cent.; at the examination of 1886, 396 out of 712 passed, or less than 56 per cent. The Director explains the less favourable result of the latter examination by the large increase in the number of B. A. candidates in that year. The First Arts examination of June 1884 was the last under the old system, and an exceptionally large number of candidates (487 in Bengal) was declared to have passed. Six months later a supplementary examination was held for those who had failed, and the number of successful candidates was still further increased by 290, or 777 in all. Those were examined for the B. A. degree in April 1886; and the Director adds: "it is perhaps matter for congratulation, considering that every candidate who had the shadow of a chance was allowed to pass in 1884, that as many as 55 per cent. passed the B. A. examination two years later." The new system under which the successful candidates are classified as B. A.'s with honours and ordinary B. A.'s, with different standards of examination, makes a much needed and very useful distinction between two classes of candidates. The Presidency College passed 40 B. A.'s with honours, of whom 16 were in the first division. The Metropolitan Institution and the Dacca College each passed 14 with honours and five in the first division; the Patna College passed nine with honours. The first examination for the M. A. degree under the new regulations was held in November 1885. There was a marked decrease in the number of candidates which fell from 71 in 1884 to 43. The standard for the M. A. degree has been considerably raised in correspondence with the revised standard for honours in the B. A. examination; and those who took the B. A. degree under the old regulations in many cases found the new M. A. standard too high for them. Of the 43 candidates 30 were successful. Of these, the Presidency College claimed 16, the Metropolitan and General Assembly's Colleges four each, the Patna College three, while one or two passed from St. Xavier's and the Sanskrit Colleges. The success of colleges under private management at these, the highest examinations of the University, affords ground for much satisfaction as indicating that there is no branch of literary education beyond the sphere of independent enterprise.

14. Sir Rivers Thompson gladly concurs in the opinion expressed by the Director in the following terms upon the work of the higher educational staff:—

To the work done by the Principals and Professors in the different Government colleges nothing but praise can be accorded. They have spared no pains in their desire to maintain University education at its highest possible level; and the quality of their work is sufficiently attested by the distinguished place which the colleges fill in the University honour lists. The Presidency College, which has been under the efficient management of Mr. Griffiths, owes to the commanding strength of its professorial staff the position which it occupies as the leading institution on this side of India for the promotion of higher education. The Patna, Hooghly, and Dacca Colleges are also strongly officered; and the efforts of able and zealous Principals like Mr. Ewbank, Mr. Mowat, and Mr. Booth, have been seconded with no less ability and zeal by the Professors who assist them. These larger colleges are the institutions on which, it is not too much to say, depend the higher education of Bengal and its continued progress in the ways of civilisation. Their effects are seen not only in the creation of a body of public servants of an unimpeachable standard of capacity and integrity, but also in the growth of independent professional life, in the development of a vigorous public opinion, and in the creation of a mass of useful literature, through which men who have been trained in our colleges "hand on the lamp" to a younger generation. The responsibilities that fall upon educational officers having duties of such importance to discharge are of the highest kind; and they are met, I am glad to be able to record, with enthusiasm and alertness.

15. The following statement shows the number of high English schools for native boys, and of pupils attending them, for the last two years :—

The aided school in the new district of Khoolna has been converted into a Government institution. The Municipalities of Bally in the Hooghly district and of Nattore in Rajshahye have taken over the management of the high schools at those places. The increase of seven aided schools is due either to the rise of middle schools to this class, or to the giving of a grant to schools previously unaided. Of schools lately aided there are four, while ten new schools have come into existence without grants, so that there is an increase of six unaided schools; hence there has been a total increase of 16 high schools and of 4,608 pupils due almost entirely to private effort. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that at no distant date a large number of Government schools will be transferred to the management of Joint Committees to be appointed under the Local Self-Government Act. There is fortunately no ground for questioning the complete capacity of bodies of native gentlemen for managing high English schools; and the success which they have achieved for many years in comparatively small places may be looked for with even greater confidence in the head-quarter stations of districts.

16. The Report shows a serious decline in the proportion of successful candidates at the last two Entrance examinations of the University. The percentage of success has fallen from nearly 54 in 1884 to 36 in 1885 and to 28 in 1886. The decline has affected all classes of schools and all Divisions alike; it has attracted considerable public attention, and the University has appointed a Committee to inquire into the subject. It is therefore unnecessary for the Lieutenant-Governor to comment on what would in other circumstances have been deemed to indicate a loss of efficiency. It will be sufficient to compare the schools with each other at the last two examinations, rather than with their performances in previous years. The Hare School heads the list of collegiate schools as usual; but in the examination of 1886 the Rajshahye Collegiate School advanced from the sixth place to the second, displacing the Hindu School from the position which it has occupied for many years. The next in order are the collegiate schools at Dacca, Patna, and Hooghly. Among zillah schools the highest places were taken in 1885 by Comilla, Chapra, Barisal and Beerbhoom, and in 1886 by Barisal, Bhagulpore and Comilla. The Mymensing School, in former years the strenuous competitor for the first place with Barisal, has now fallen to a comparatively low position on the list. In both these places schools under private management have been for some years successfully maintained. The Gya and Chapra Schools drew no portion of their net grants during the year, the income from fees and subscriptions being sufficient for their maintenance. The Howrah School obtained a very high place at the examination, but the attempt to work it without a net grant has failed, as in previous years. There are many schools under private management in the neighbourhood, and the question of retaining this as a Government institution is one that is now under the Lieutenant-Governor's consideration in connexion with the revision of net grants to schools. The new zillah school at Khoolna has made a fair start by passing five candidates at the examination. From the Ranchi School a genuine Kol boy passed the Entrance examination in 1885, and gained a junior scholarship. The Inspector of the Western Circle, Baboo Bramha Mohan Mullick, complains that managers of middle schools are often tempted to raise them to the high class without being able to provide a sufficient staff. That many schools under private management are really inefficient is illustrated by the Inspector's remark that his seven departmental schools passed more candidates than all the other 50 schools that competed. The Director is justified in his comment that "the chief drawback to this state of things is that a bad high school ceases to be even a good middle school; for the teaching in a high school is or may be conducted exclusively through English, and no longer in the vernacular." But so far as aided schools are concerned, the remedy lies in his own hands, for the Director may refuse to allow a school to raise its class unless he is satisfied that the new teaching staff is thoroughly efficient. He is requested to impress this point upon Circle Inspectors when they send up proposals for the conversion of middle to high class schools.

17. The figures for middle English schools are given below :—

The increase of four Government and two Municipal schools is the result of a mere change of classification, arising from the addition of English classes to middle vernacular schools. The increase of 15 aided schools is explained as follows:—Ten middle vernacular schools were raised, and one high school was reduced, to this class, while 26 unaided schools received grants. On the other hand, two middle English schools were reduced to vernacular, and five were raised to high English schools, while the grants were withdrawn from 14, and one aided school was taken over by a municipality. The danger referred to in the last paragraph as attending the elevation of middle to high English schools is also noticed as incidental to the conversion of middle vernacular into middle English schools. In accordance with the orders of 1878, an English class can be added, with the consent of the Inspector, to any vernacular school, and as soon as the English teaching is declared efficient, it is ranked as a middle English school; but in some cases it is reported that this conversion is effected at the cost of the vernacular teaching, the school being unable to afford an English teacher without reducing to some, and perhaps a dangerous, extent the vernacular staff. Vernacular instruction is the basis of all middle schools, whether they are classed as English or as vernacular; and the Lieutenant-Governor must insist on the utmost care being taken to prevent any loss of its efficiency. It is hardly necessary to repeat that a good vernacular school is far more useful than a school which teaches both English and the vernacular badly.

18. The figures for middle vernacular schools are here given :—

The loss of one departmental school is due to the addition of an English class to a vernacular school in Orissa; the place of three other vernacular schools similarly raised being supplied by three new schools. There is again of eight aided schools, and a corresponding decrease of six in the number of unaided schools. When middle vernacular schools are established by private effort in advanced and prosperous villages, it is generally, the Director reports, with the object of converting them hereafter into English schools; thus in the Burdwan Division, of 232 aided vernacular schools, nearly one fifth have English classes attached. Before any of these are officially recognised as English schools, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the conditions referred to in the last paragraph will be steadily enforced. He regrets to observe the backward and even declining state of aided middle education in Behar, especially in those schools in which no English is taught. In the Patna Division, middle English schools fell from 60 to 53, and middle vernacular schools from 13 to 7. Primary schools flourish in Behar, but students who seek education of any higher kind seem to prefer for the most part the zillah schools at head-quarters, or the high schools which in many places have been established under private management side by side with the zillah schools. Indeed the chief purpose which middle schools appear to serve in Behar is not so much to promote general education as to qualify candidates for the mooktearship examination held by the High Court.

19. The results of the examinations of candidates from middle schools, English and vernacular, for the middle scholarship certificate, were satisfactory. In 1884-85, 7,540 candidates appeared, of whom 654 obtained the middle, English and 3,115 the middle vernacular certificates or 3,769 in all. In 1885-86, 6,656 candidates appeared, of whom 590 gained the middle English and 3,111 the middle vernacular certificates or 3,701 in all. The number of candidates was smaller by 884 than in the previous year, when, owing to the change in the date of examination, the session consisted of 17 months, but the number of successful candidates was only 68 behind. At the examination of 1885-86, pupils of middle English schools gained 569 English and 582 vernacular certificates, while those from middle vernacular schools gained 21 English and 2,529 vernacular certificates.

The disappearance from the returns of the Department of 14,877 schools, of this class, and of 123,084 pupils, is attributed to the rigorous exclusion from the departmental examinations, and subsequently from the annual returns submitted by the local inspecting officers, of small, temporary, or backward schools, that is to say, of those which had less than ten pupils, had existed for less than six months, those which did not use printed books, and those which did not bring to the place of examination registers and returns properly kept. The rule prescribing this exclusion was proposed by the Director of Public Instruction, and approved by Government in the Resolution on the annual report of 1883-84, as in accordance with the principle that the consolidation and improvement of existing institutions should now be the main object of local officers. It is stated that the opinion of District Officers is practically unanimous in favour of the change, and it is evident that the new rule has had the good effect of preventing the waste of public money on ephemeral institutions got up for the sake of the reward, and doing no real good. The result of the lower primary scholarship examination, however, shows a decrease of 612 competing and 542 successful schools, on which the Director observes:

"The percentage is better than in the previous year; but still it must be admitted that the small schools excluded under the new system contained many pupils who were qualified to pass the lower primary examination, and who have now lost the advantage of that incentive to progress which the examination supplied. This is a fact the importance of which must not be overlooked; and the unfavourable results of the last examination cannot, in my opinion, be explained (as some have endeavoured to explain it) by changes in the system of examination tending to increased strictness. We must accept the fact that primary education during the past year has received a check, from which we may nevertheless hope that it will again recover. The advantage of concentrating effort and limiting the area of operations is undoubted with our present limited agency; but there is no use in disguising from ourselves the fact that in a large part of Bengal we have been compelled to part with control over good and promising educational material."

21. The importance of not diminishing the number of those who really receive primary education is apparent from the fact that, of the boys of school-going age in Bengal, little more than one-fourth are classified as under instruction. Were funds available, it would be most desirable to extend the blessings of primary education to the three-fourths of the population now allowed to grow up in ignorance, and even with the limited means now at the disposal of Government, every effort should be made to prevent a falling off. It is noticed that the loss has been greatest where it could be least afforded: the Presidency Division has not suffered, while Behar, always backward in educational position, has lost the enormous number of 5,647. In this division where, as previously noticed, the rule was by mistake extended even to Sanskrit tols, the number of candidates for the lower scholarship examination declined from 13,616 to 9,429, the number of successful scholars from 6,867 to 5,263, and no explanation of the falling off has been given by the Inspector. It appears, moreover, that the Muhammedans, who frequently keep up small schools as maktabs, have suffered in a special manner from the new system. The Lieutenant-Governor will ask for a special report on the working of the new rules from the Director, and until orders have been passed on it, District Magistrates, in communication with District Education Committees, may, as formerly, exercise a discretion in the matter, in places where District Boards have not been established.

22. On the other hand it is satisfactory to be able to record a considerable advance in the number and the efficiency of upper primary schools, which mark the highest point yet reached in primary education. These show an increase of 360 schools and of 12,621 pupils; and the steady increase in their number affords ground for the hope expressed two years ago that the number of schools of this class will at no distant date reach 5,000. They are gradually coming to take in outlying villages, the place formerly held by middle vernacular schools, while these latter tend more and more in all advanced places to be converted into English schools. The results of the upper primary scholarship examination were also good. Of 7,961 candidates, 4,092 passed the examination from 1,804 schools; while in the previous year, of 6,002 candidates, 2,953 passed from 1,223 schools.

23. For the summary account of the progress of primary education in each district which has been furnished in previous reports, Mr. Croft has now substituted three useful tabular statements, which supply, in a convenient form, the chief facts of interest. The first of these tables shows for each district the proportion of school-boys to all boys of school-going age. In four districts, namely Howrah, Hooghly, Tipperah and Noakhally, and in Calcutta, more than 50 per cent of the male population of school-going age are actually at school. Howrah heading the list with 58 per cent. In Cuttack, Balasore, Burdwan, Midnapore, Backergunge, 24-Pergunnahs, and Bankoora, the percentage varies from 40 to 49. In 17 districts the proportion lies between ten and fourteen per cent., and the lowest places are occupied by Mozufferpore with 6 and the Chittagong Hill Tracts with 3 per cent. The backward state of education in Mozufferpore, a fertile and in some respects not a backward district, is deplorable, and calls for the earnest attention of the local authorities. Reckoned by divisions, Burdwan, Chittagong and Orissa stand on a close equality at the head of the list with 46 to 46½ per cent.; Dacca follows with 36, and the Presidency Division with 29 per cent.; lowest on the list stand Rajshahye, Chota Nagpore, Bhagulpore and Patna, with from 15 to 12 per cent. An equally interesting table is that in which districts are classified, not by the total number of their pupils, but by the number and advancement of their primary schools, under a rough system in which five marks are assigned to each upper primary school, three to a school which has reached the lower primary scholarship standard, and one to a school below that standard,—these numbers corresponding generally with the number of years in which a school reaches each standard. In this table Midnapore, Cuttack, Tipperah, Mymensingh, Backergunge, and Burdwan stand highest. The four districts—Howrah, Hooghly, Tipperah, and Noakholly—which stood at the head of the previous table, now occupy the 31st, 11th, 2nd, and 20th places respectively, showing that the number of pupils at school in any district affords no test of the quality of the instruction imparted. A third table shows the financial results of the administration of the primary grant, which amounted to 7¼ lakhs in 1885-86. The average yearly cost of each school in Bengal was Rs. 13-10, and of each pupil 9½ annas. The average is highest in Chota Nagpore, where each school cost Rs. 37-1 for the year; the Rajshahye and Presidency Divisions follow with Rs. 23-3 and Rs. 21-4 respectively. The schools are worked most cheaply in Orissa, Dacca, Burdwan, and Chittagong, where the cost varies from Rs. 11-8 to Rs. 14-4 a year. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the divisions in which the schools as a whole are cheapest are precisely those in which, according to the second table above referred to, education is the most advanced. Judged by that table, the most advanced divisions are Orissa, Dacca, Burdwan, and Chittagong: and it is in these divisions that the average cost of a school is lower than elsewhere, namely Rs. 12, Rs. 13, Rs. 14, and Rs. 14 respectively. There is no doubt good reason why, in exceptionally backward parts of the country such as the Rajshahye Division and Chota Nagpore, the maintenance of schools even of an inferior type should be difficult and costly; and, on the other hand, in Orissa and Western Bengal, where for centuries the people have shown remarkable aptitude for elementary education, it is probable that even good schools can be maintained with little help from the State. Still the fact that the advancement of schools in different parts of the country should vary almost uniformly in inverse proportion to their cost is so remarkable, and may so reasonably be due to differences in the value of administrative methods, that the Lieutenant-Governor requests that this subject may receive careful attention at the next Conference of Inspectors. The introduction of more practical subjects at primary examinations was suggested by the Education Commission, and the subject has been noticed in the Resolutions on the last two reports. The Director will now be requested to report what steps have been taken (1) for carrying into effect his recommendation that mensuration should be taught with the first book of Euclid in primary schools; (2) with regard to the suggestion made in the Resolution on the report for 1883-84, that an easy treatise on the preservation of health should be substituted for the Sanitary Primer which was said to have proved to be too abstruse and difficult for lower primary students.

24. The number of training schools was 25, as in the previous year.

Special Instruction and technical education, normal schools. There was some increase both in the number of pupils and in the number of those who gained certificates at the vernacular mastership examination. The Dacca school has done remarkably well, passing 95 out of its 102 pupils; the Rungpore school has also advanced. The Calcutta and Hooghly schools were less successful than in the previous year. The Calcutta training school was removed in January 1886 to more spacious quarters. The English department of the Patna training school was abolished, as its cost was judged to be out of proportion to its utility. Complaints are made that the supply of certificated teachers for middle schools is unequal to the demand, and the Director reports that applications continue to be received for an increase of the stipend grant to training schools. The difficulty appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to lie not in the insufficiency of the grant, but (as pointed out in the Resolution on the report for 1884-85) in the fact that many of the certificated teachers betake themselves to other and more lucrative occupations than that of a schoolmaster. Instead of paying fees, when at school, like other students, they receive stipends, paid with the object of inducing them to adopt a particular profession, and when they leave school they are not bound to follow that profession. It is difficult to find any remedy for this except by improving the position of vernacular teachers in middle schools throughout the country—a change involving largely increased expenditure both on Government middle schools and in grants-in-aid. The guru training classes are doing useful work, and 181 gurus received certificates during the year. The outturn of these classes is, however, far below the requirements of the province; and shortly before the close of the year an arrangement was sanctioned for training 500 gurus annually in classes to be attached to middle schools, at an annual cost of Rs. 6,000. The scheme is being extended to all parts of Bengal. The aided training schools at Barrackpore, Krishnagar, and Ranchi, all for Native Christians, the two schools for Sonthals at Bimpore and Bishenpore, and the Scotch Mission school at Darjeeling, are reported to be doing useful work and to have advanced in numbers. There are three aided schools for mistresses, and from one of these—the Free Church Normal school—a pupil passed at the First Arts Examination of 1886.

25. Law schools have increased from eight to ten, owing to the opening of law classes in connexion with the Ripon and Jagannath Colleges. The total average attendance for all schools was 947, against 765 in the preceding year. At the University examination 119 candidates qualified for the degree of Bachelor of Law, against 77 in the previous year. The total number of students in medicine has declined from 804 to 752. There has been a large increase in the Calcutta Medical College and the Campbell School at Sealdah, but the attendance at the Patna Medical School has fallen from 151 to 92—a result which is ascribed to the backwardness of middle education in Behar, and the consequent difficulty of keeping up a supply of students who have passed the middle scholarship examination. The question of revising the standard of admission to the school is under consideration. From the Calcutta Medical College, 14 candidates passed the first and 28 the final University examination; three native daïs and five pupil-nurses also received certificates of qualification in midwifery. The hostel for female students of medicine, which has been constructed from the munificent gift of Rs. 1,50,000 made by Her Highness the Maharani Sarnamayi, is now complete and ready for occupation. The Lieutenant-Governor has ordered that girls shall be eligible for admission to the Medical College after passing the University Entrance Examination; and that, on passing the college examination after a three years' course of classes and practical instruction, they shall be entitled to certificates qualifying them to practise medicine, surgery, and midwifery. A grant of Rs. 3,000 was sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor for furnishing the hostel, and Sir Walter deSouza contributed a sum of Rs. 2,400 for the provision of scholarships. From the medical schools at Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack, 37, 33, and 8 students, respectively, passed the final examination qualifying them for employment as civil hospital assistants.

26. The Engineering College at Seebpore contained 52 and 104 students in the Engineer and Apprentice Departments respectively—a slight advance on the numbers of the previous year. Of six candidates for the University License in Engineering, three passed. Of 13 apprentices, 12 passed the final examination and entered upon their practical course. These last have no difficulty in obtaining employment, partly owing to the excellent workshop training they receive. Of the Engineering Department the Director has formed a less favourable opinion, and he has proposed the appointment of a Committee to enquire into the subject. This suggestion is at present under consideration. The College is under the superintendence of a body of Governors whose aid might be invoked in the solution of any difficulties of working.

27. The three survey schools at Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack contained 201 students against 156 the year before. At the final examination, out of 72 second-year students, 61 passed and obtained certificates. These schools are uniformly popular and successful, and the passed students find good employment without difficulty.

28. The School of Art in Calcutta suffered a serious blow in the death of Mr. H. H. Locke, who, during the many years of his Principalship, laboured to raise the institution to a high point of excellence. He was succeeded by Mr. Schaumburg, whose services promised to be of great value to the school, especially in the development of industrial art; but he also unhappily died very shortly after his appointment. The institution was then placed, pending the appointment of a Principal from England, in charge of the Assistant Principal, Signor Ghilardi. Progress is being made in the wood-carving and metal-chasing classes, to which a more practical turn has been given. The modelling class promises well, though the attendance is small; and a new development is likely to be given to this class in the production of a series of ethnological models of the kind that attracted so much attention in the Colonial and Indian Exhibition held in London in 1886. The resuscitation of Indian decorative art is also being attempted, though the class is not as yet very popular. Signor Ghilardi remarks:—"If our 163 students were asked which branch of the profession they would rather cultivate, the majority of them would answer portrait-painting. A decorative painter is not held in great esteem among Indians, and is considered little better than a common mechanic. The Musulmans on this point show better judgment." From the accumulations of the grant to the Art Gallery, a large number of paintings were purchased in England at a cost of £ 787, chiefly through the instrumentality of Lord Northbrook, to whose services and assistance the gallery has been greatly indebted ever since its foundation. Lord Northbrook also presented the gallery with four water-colour paintings.

29. There are eight industrial schools in Bengal, four of which receive grants from Government, and two from the municipalities of Moorshedabad and Berhampore. The Maisadal technical school at Midnapore promises to become a very useful institution, and the Lieutenant-Governor has recently sanctioned a grant of Rs. 50 a month towards its support. The whole subject of technical education is receiving careful attention; and it is to be hoped that—whatever may be done with regard to the larger schemes of advanced instruction that have been proposed—a beginning may at any rate be made by establishing, at all industrial centres, schools designed to make the artisans who attend them better and more skilful workmen in their particular handicrafts. The East Indian Railway has taken the lead in this matter by establishing, in connection with their more important workshops, schools of technical instruction for the workmen and their children.

30. The following table shows the advance that has been made in female education during the past year:—

					1884-85.		1885-86
					Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Girls' Schools.
Maintained by the Department		2	186	2	201
Ditto by Municipal Boards		4	160	4	159
Aided by the Department or by Municipal Boards		2,168	37,662	2,048	39,215
Unaided		135	2,789	242	3,746
Total					2,309	40,797	2,296	43,321
Girls in boys' schools	35,749	34,716
GRAND TOTAL					2,309	76,546	2,296	78,037

Of these schools, three are high English, four middle English, 15 middle vernacular and 274 upper primary. The rest are lower primary schools, mostly aided from the primary grant, at an average cost to the State of Rs. 18 a year. The total cost of female education in Calcutta was Rs. 2,95,842, of which Government contributed Rs. 1,07,216. The Bethune School had 142 pupils in the lower, and five in the upper or college department. One girl passed the Entrance examination from this school, and two the B. A. examination—one of them, Miss Kamini Sen, taking honours in Sanskrit. Two young ladies from other institutions, not included in the foregoing table—namely, the Doveton and the Free Church Normal School—passed the First Arts examination. From the Eden Female School at Dacca one candidate passed the Entrance examination. The third high school is the Christ Church girls' school in Calcutta, ably managed by Miss Neele, and chiefly intended for native converts. Most of the girls' schools in Calcutta are under missionary management, in connection with one or other of the zenana agencies. According to the report of Mrs. Wheeler, the Inspectress of Schools, a very considerable advance has been made in the elementary education of girls. The total number that passed by her standards was 1,573, or more than double the number of the previous year. The Church of England and the American Zenana Missions were the most successful. Outside the sphere of missionary agency, there are 54 lower primary schools in Calcutta with 1,359 pupils, and 29 girls' classes attached to boys' schools with 239 pupils. These are the result of less than two years' work, under the system introduced in August 1884 for opening girls' schools and classes aided by capitation grants; the maximum grant which a teacher can earn under this system being Rs. 10 a month. The total expenditure on these schools was Rs. 2,647, of which Rs. 2,328 were contributed by Government.

31. Outside Calcutta there has been a slight decline in the number of girls' schools, but a considerable increase in that of pupils. In the Burdwan Division the scholarship and prize examinations held by the Uttarpara Hitakari Sabha have been brought into close conformity with the departmental standards; and the schools of the Midnapore district, which formerly held aloof, now send candidates to these examinations. In the Beerbhoom district a Mahomedan girl for the first time won a scholarship offered for competition by the Sabha. In Midnapore a Sonthal girl won a prize of the value of Rs. 15. In the Presidency, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions also the local Sabhas or unions are largely instrumental in promoting female education. In the districts of Eastern Bengal there has been a large loss of pupils, which is ascribed partly to the general levying of fees in the girls' schools. In Tipperah, however, there is a large increase, due to the raising of the capitation grant for girls making satisfactory progress. In these two divisions 12 girls passed the upper and 194 the lower primary scholarship examination, the Dacca Division contributing by far the largest share. The Patna Division is backward in female education, the only fairly good schools being those attended by Bengali girls. In the Bhagulpore Division three special schools for Sonthal girls have been opened in the Bhagulpore and Sonthal Pergunnahs districts. In Orissa an exceptionally large number of girls passed the lower primary scholarship examination. The girls' schools in this division are said to be placed on a sound and satisfactory footing.

European Education.

32. The following table shows the number of schools for Europeans in two successive years:—

CLASS.	Number of schools.		Number of scholars.
	1885.	1886.	1885.	1886.
Government	1	1	92	94
Aided	53	51	5,033	4,961
Unaided	15	10	1,264	1,053
Total	69	62	6,389	6,098

of returns by a few private schools. The most important event during the year under report was the definite substitution of payment-by-results for fixed grants. The provisional scale of grants given in the draft Code of 1882 came to an end at the close of 1884-85, and a revised scale on a more definite principle was sanctioned for 1885-86.

33. At the examination for scholarships and certificates under the Code, there was a large increase in the number of candidates, especially of those for primary scholarships and certificates. At the middle examination, the candidates increased from 73 to 96; at the primary examination from 247 to 396. The percentage of passes fell from 48 to 45 at the middle examination, but rose from 66 to 72 at the primary. At both examinations the percentage was greater for girls than for boys. At the primary examination, two-thirds of the girls, but only one-half of the boys, were placed in the first and second division. The large increase in the number of candidates for certificates confirms the view expressed last year that the popularity of the examination depends less upon the pecuniary rewards attached to it than upon the publicity given to the results by their announcement in the Calcutta Gazette. In the annual school examinations there was a slight increase in the total number of pupils presented for examination from 3,375 to 3,397. The increase was general in the higher standards, the loss in the lower being accounted for by the omission of three primary schools that were examined in the previous year. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to record his opinion that the working of the Code has been entirely satisfactory.

Mahomedan Education.

34. The following statement gives the number and percentage of Mahomedan pupils in different classes of schools:—

	Total number of pupils.	Number of Mahomedans.	Percentage of Mahomedans.
Public institutions.
Arts colleges	2,998	140	4.6
High English schools	58,105	5,520	9.5
Middle ditto	54,378	6,632	12.1
Middle vernacular schools	64,752	8,457	13.06
Upper primary ditto	123,242	20,548	16.6
Lower ditto ditto	1,019,072	315,259	30.9
Professional colleges	1,193	35	2.9
Technical schools	1,966	487	24.7
Normal ditto	1,258	68	5.2
Madrasahs	1,316	1,315	100.0
Total ...	1,328,280	358,459	26.9
Private institutions.
Advanced	24,212	18,538	76.5
Elementary	5,537	2,845	51.3
Total ...	29,749	21,383	71.8
GRAND TOTAL ...	1,358,029	379,842	27.9

The percentage of the Mahomedan population in the parts of Bengal which have submitted returns is 31.5 per cent. and the proportion among those under instruction is not much less. The deficiency is in the upper walks of education, the Mahomedans sending, for instance, to Arts Colleges less than one-sixth of the number which might have been expected. The total number of Mahomedan pupils has fallen from 420,768 to 379,842, and the percentage from 28.6 to 27.9, owing to the exclusion of small primary schools from the returns. On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the number of Mahomedans in Arts Colleges has risen from 129 to 140, in high English schools from 5,096 to 5,520, and in middle English schools from 6,223 to 6,632. These figures show that the appreciation of the Mahomedan community for English education is steadily growing. The results of the University examinations of 1885 and 1886 point in the same direction. The number of Mahomedans passing the Entrance examination in 1885 was 44; in 1886 it was 51. At the First Arts examination the numbers were 12 in 1885 and 31 in 1886; for the B. A. degree four in 1885 and 19 in 1886; and for the M. A. degree one in 1885 and two in 1886. To help them still further in this respect, the Lieutenant-Governor has recently sanctioned the foundation of 20 scholarships awardable to Mahomedans on the results of the Entrance examination, and a like number on the results of the First Arts examination. It is hoped that, with the special aid now offered, and with the assistance liberally given by the more enlightened Mahomedans, they will be able before long to meet all other sections of the community on more equal terms.

35. The central examination of Bengal madrassas was held in April 1885, when 206 candidates appeared and 120 passed. Pupils from the richly endowed madrasa at Sasseram, in the district of Shahabad, appeared for the first time at this examination, and with success. The estimated income of the Mohsin Endowment Fund during 1885-86 was Rs. 59,452, the estimated expenditure Rs. 57,426, and the actual expenditure Rs. 52,351, of which Rs. 28,857 were spent upon the maintenance of the madrassas supported from this endowment, and the remainder chiefly upon the English education of Mahomedan students.

36. The total number of pupils coming under this class has declined from 33,151 to 29,906, owing to the general causes already described. Some progress is, however, reported in the education of these races. The American Baptist Mission in Midnapore has increased the number of its "jungle schools" for Sonthal children from 52 with 1,245 pupils to 72 with 1,879 pupils. Two Sonthal boys passed the middle scholarship examination for the first time in that district. There are two training schools for Sonthals in the Burdwan Division—one at Bhimpore in Midnapore, the other at Bissenpore in Bankoora. In Beerbhoom also there are 18 schools for the education of Sonthals. In the Rajshahye Division the Bhutea Boarding School at Darjeeling trains 31 pupils of the hill races to a considerable standard in English; and the Scotch Mission schools give an elementary vernacular education to the children of coolies on the tea gardens and others. In the Chittagong Division the bulk of the aboriginal pupils are the Barua Mugs in the plains, and the Joomia Mugs and Chakmas in the Hill Tracts of Chittagong; it is for the two last-named races that the boarding schools at Rangamati and Bandarban are kept up. These pupils gained some success at the middle and upper primary scholarship examinations of the division. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs the education of Sonthals is carried on by the Government, the Church Mission Society and the "Home Mission" under Messrs. Boeresen and Skrefsrud. The Government scheme for the Damin-i-Koh is working well, and more schools are needed. Both the Church Mission Society and the Home Mission have admirable schools for girls, superintended by the ladies of the Mission. The Chota Nagpore Division contains the largest number of aboriginal pupils. Two Kol candidates appeared at the last Entrance examination from the Ranchi School, and one passed, gaining a junior scholarship of Rs. 10 a month, which he now holds in the Burdwan Maharaja's College. This is the first instance of a pupil of aboriginal birth being successful at any University examination. Five candidates from this division passed the middle scholarship examination, 24 the upper primary, and 150 the lower primary. A part of the educational work in Chota Nagpore is in the hands of four missionary societies, namely, the Berlin Evangelical, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, the Free Church of Scotland, and St. Xavier's, nearly all of which are extending their operations. In the Orissa Tributary Mehals, the special schools for the education of aborigines are the Sonthal schools in Mourbhunj, the Bhuyan schools in Keonjhar, and the cess schools in the Khondmals. There has been some loss of pupils in the Sonthal schools, attributed to a panic created by the untimely death of the Sonthal inspecting pundit, and of a promising Sonthal boy who had passed the minor scholarship examination. Mr. Metcalfe, the Superintendent of the Mehals, remarks:—"The Sonthal inspecting pundit was a young man who had shown great zeal in the cause of Sonthal education, and his death was looked upon as a mark of displeasure of the offended gods." Incidents of this kind show how imperious is the necessity of extending education among a people who are governed by such influences.

37. The total number of indigenous schools on the returns fell from 2,512 to 2,234, but the number of their pupils increased from 27,339 to 29,749. The maktabs and madrassas increased from 940 to 1,302, chiefly in Eastern Bengal. It is stated that the maktabs in Chota Nagpore and in Behar are gradually losing their importance from a secular point of view, owing to the adoption of Hindi as the court language, and that Hindus do not now use these schools as they formerly did for the acquisition of Persian. The number of tols in Bengal decreased from 1,088 to 577, owing to the unauthorised exclusion of tols with less than ten pupils in the Patna Division. "Tols all over the country," the Director remarks, "are generally attended by but few pupils, owing to the fact that the pundit has, in conformity with immemorial tradition, to maintain as well as to teach his scholars. The average number of pupils in a tol is in fact only eight or nine, and in a return of the indigenous agencies of instruction it is necessary to show all that exist." In any future scheme that may be devised for the improvement and encouragement of the tols, it is probable that such encouragement will take the form of rewards to those pundits whose pupils pass a central examination. The pundits will be left to teach after their own methods, without compulsion of any kind from the inspecting officers of the Department; and in this point of view it is indifferent how many pupils a tol has. The Sanskrit title examination was held in April 1885, at which 106 candidates presented themselves and 36 passed—15 in literature, 18 in law, and 3 in philosophy. A second examination was held under the revised rules in February 1886, at which the number of candidates fell to 58 in consequence of the difficulty of the new standard. Of those who presented themselves, 36 again passed—28 in literature, 5 in law, and 3 in philosophy. The question of establishing a lower and preliminary standard of examination, in order to suit the tols, such as those of Behar, which are less advanced, is now under consideration. The Dacca Sarasvat Samaj held an examination in 1886, at which 233 candidates appeared from 59 tols. The standard appears to be much lower than that of the Sanskrit title examination, and the introduction of the proposed preliminary test would probably meet the requirements of the tols in Eastern Bengal.

38. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are given to Mr. Tawney for his careful administration of the department throughout the year, and to Mr Croft for his able report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY 1887.

THE weather in northern India during the past month has been very unusual. In normal seasons fine, clear, dry weather prevails throughout the province with very occasional interruptions, when small depressions or cold-weather disturbances which have formed in Upper India pass eastwards and enter Behar or Chutia Nagpur. They modify the weather to a slight extent, causing clouded skies and giving light showers. They generally fill up in Behar, but sometimes pass eastwards through Bengal and then disappear. The amount of rain they give is rarely large in Bengal, and the average total rainfall of the month, which is mainly, if not entirely, due to them varies from three-tenths of an inch in Orissa to five-tenths of an inch in North Behar. Their importance lies in the fact that the winter snowfall on the Himalayas occurs chiefly during these storms or disturbances, and it is now apparently thoroughly established that an unusual accumulation of snow in the Himalayas (due to the occurrence of a larger number of these storms, and in a more intense form than usual) exercises a powerful influence on the weather for some months, tends to retard the advance of the south-west monsoon humid current over Northern India, and hence to diminish considerably the rainfall of the south-west monsoon season. The past month has been characterized by the occurrence of a very large number of these disturbances, which have followed each other in rapid succession. One especially of these storms was the largest and most severe of its kind that has been known for many years, certainly since 1877, and probably for the last 30 years. The following gives a list of these disturbances which, after forming in Upper India, entered into the Province of Bengal during the past month, and either filled up or passed through the province eastwards into Burmah:—

First depression of January 7th, 8th, and 9th.—It appears to have originated in the south of Rajpootana, and began to influence the weather on the 6th. It passed through the northern districts of Chutia Nagpur and South Behar on the 7th, and through Central into East Bengal on the 8th, and disappeared on the 9th. It gave a series of thunderstorms, and moderate general rain to Chutia Nagpur, Behar, and the greater part of Bengal on the 7th and 8th.

Second depression of January 13th to 15th.—This was a feebler and smaller disturbance than the previous. It formed in the Punjab on the 12th and began to modify the weather in Behar on the 13th. The depression passed into Behar and Chutia Nagpur on the 14th, and filled up on the morning of the 15th without passing into Bengal. It gave light to moderate rain to the whole of Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The rainfall was largest in the Hazaribagh and Lohardugga districts, and generally exceeded one inch in that area.

Third depression of January 19th to 22nd.—This was the most marked disturbance of the month, and one of the largest and most remarkable of its class that have occurred since the commencement of meteorological work in India. It originated in the Punjab on the evening of the 17th. The barometer fell rapidly until the depression exceeded five-tenths of an inch. It passed through the North-Western Provinces on the 20th, through Behar and West Bengal on the 21st, and through East Bengal on the 22nd, when it disappeared or passed into Burmah. The storm extended over the Himalayan region and gave heavy snowfall. The fall at Darjeeling was the largest experienced for many years. It also gave general and unusually heavy rain for the season to the whole of Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and Bengal. The average amount received during the storm in North Behar was 1·6 inches, in South Behar 1·2 inches, and in North Bengal 1·1 inches.

Fourth depression of January 25th to 27th.—This was much smaller than the previous disturbance. It originated in Upper India on the 24th and 25th, passed through Behar into West Bengal on the 26th, and through East Bengal on the 27th. The rainfall attending it was moderate in amount and distributed in an unusual manner, as it fell chiefly in East Bengal, and portions of South-West and North Bengal.

Fifth depression of January 28th and 30th.—This was of less importance than the previous. It formed in Upper India on the 27th, and passed rapidly eastwards through the province on the 29th and 30th, when it disappeared. It gave light showers, chiefly in East Bengal, on the 30th.

Each of these disturbances was accompanied by the same atmospheric changes. During their advance the barometer fell briskly (from ·1" to ·2"). Temperature and humidity increased rapidly, skies became more or less clouded, the winds shifted, and showed slight convergence to the position of lowest pressure, and rain fell in varying amounts. After their passage through, or final disappearance in, the province, the barometer rose very quickly (much more rapidly than it fell), temperature and humidity decreased with great rapidity, and the winds resumed their ordinary cold-weather directions.

Pressure.—Was unusually variable during the month in consequence of the influence of the five cold-weather depressions. The third and largest caused a fall averaging ·2" throughout the province, and in the others the fall varied between ·1" and ·15". The mean pressure of the month is hence very considerably below the normal mean. The defect was greatest at Darjeeling, as might be expected, seeing that these disturbances undoubtedly originate in the higher strata of the atmosphere and influence the weather on the Himalayas more than in the plains of Northern India. It was very nearly an eighth of an inch at Darjeeling. The deficiency varied between ·06" in East Bengal and ·09" in Behar.

Temperature.—The month was characterized by unusually rapid and large variations. Temperature increased quickly during the passage of the disturbances, and diminished more briskly after their disappearance. The third and largest disturbance was followed by an exceedingly rapid fall of temperature, which in this case was greater in the day than in the night temperature. Temperature was for a short period from 10° to 15° below the mean, and the average daily temperature for the week ending the 28th was from 5° to 10° below the normal average in Bengal, Behar, and Chutia Nagpur. The following table gives data for eight representative stations of the weekly variation of the temperature from the average:—

The mean temperature of the month is below the average for all divisions except Orissa. This was chiefly due to the effect of the cold period which followed the third depression. The mean temperature of the month for Chutia Nagpur and North Behar (and probably North Bengal) was 2° below the average, of East Bengal 1½°, of South-West Bengal 1°, and of South Behar ½°.

Rainfall.—The periods of occurrence of rainfall during the month have been already described. Rain fell during each of the five disturbances. By far the largest proportion fell during the third disturbance. Moderately heavy and general rain was received during the first storm. The rainfall which attended the remaining three storms was small in amount, and partial and local in character. Orissa received its normal average amount—one-third of an inch. The average rainfall in the other six divisions varied between one and two inches, and is from three to five and a half times its normal amount. Chutia Nagpur, East Bengal, and North Behar received the heaviest rainfalls and the largest amounts. The following districts received averages slightly exceeding 2½ inches:—Backergunge, Noakholly, Darjeeling, Purneah; between 2½ and 2 inches, Bhagulpore, Bankipore, Durbhunga, Hazariabagh, Lohardugga, Manbhoom and Chittagang; and the following between 2 and 1½ inches: Beerbhoom, Moorsshedabad, Dinagpore, Rangpore, Julpigoree, Muzufferpore, Sarun and Gya. The only districts in Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur, where the district rainfall was less than one inch, were Dacca (.84 inch), Bankoora (.74 inch), Midnapore (.75 inch), and Singhbhoom (.3 inch). As already stated, the rainfall in Orissa was practically normal, varying between .4 inch and .3 inch. The heaviest rainfalls in 24 hours during the month were 3.05 inches at Patuakhali (in the Backergunge district) on the 27th, 2.6 inches at Gogri (in the Monghyr district) on the 20th, and 2.3 inches at Purneah on the same day.

Explanation.—Summa.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number in the column of average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past year.

7. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "Distn." observations of rainfall, the normal mean represents the normal average of the rainfall amount received in the district, i.e., from the total rainfall at the sub-divisional stations.

CALCUTTA, the 8th February 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 4TH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

THE meteorology of the past week calls for very brief notice. Pressure has oscillated slightly and somewhat irregularly during the week, but has been unusually low for the period. Winds have hence been abnormal in direction, southerly winds prevailing during the latter part of the week in South Bengal and Orissa. Temperature was very considerably below the average, the deficiency being quite as marked in the day as in the night temperature. The abnormal conditions in Bengal appear to be mainly due to the weather in Upper India, where pressure is unusually deficient, and where also frequent depressions continue to originate and move eastwards.

A few light local showers fell in East Bengal on the 30th. The disturbed state in the Himalayan area accompanying the large snowfall of the past month is indicated by the occasional occurrence of local showers in the northern districts of North Bengal during the week.

The changes of pressure during the week were rapid and mainly dependent upon the oscillations in Upper India. The mean pressure of the week was very considerably below the normal. The deficiency averaged $\cdot 12''$ in Orissa and South-West Bengal, $\cdot 1''$ in East Bengal and North Behar, $\cdot 12''$ in Chutia Nagpur, and $\cdot 14''$ in South Behar.

The chief features of the temperature of the week are given by the following data for eight representative stations:—

The mean temperature of the week was 4° below the normal in East and South-West Bengal, $3\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur, $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ in South Behar and 2° in Orissa.

The maximum temperature was from 1° (at Cuttack) to 7° (at Darjeeling and Purneah) below the normal, and the minimum or night temperature $1\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ (at Cuttack) to $4\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ (at Dacca and Purneah) below the average.

No rain fell in Orissa, South-West Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur. A few light local showers of little importance fell in East Bengal and the northern districts of North Bengal, but, except Darjeeling, no district received an eighth of an inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 4th of February 1887:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2.5° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE returns from the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 22nd January 1887 furnish the following particulars:—

1. That the birth-rate in the 6 Municipalities amounted to 32.0 per 1,000 of population as opposed to 21.1 per 1,000 during the preceding week ending 15th January, and the death-rate to 28.5 against very nearly the same proportion, viz., 28.3 per 1,000.

2. That the following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths:—

Births.		Deaths.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
Durbhanga	47.2	Suburbs of Calcutta	60.0
Beaulcah	36.8	Purneah	38.1

Gya	32.1	Serampore	37.3
Bali	31.6	Beaulcah	36.8
		Bhagulpore	34.4
		Dacca	30.5

3. That the mortality from the specific death-causes stood as follows in comparison with the similar information for the preceding week:—

				Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
				22nd January 1887.	15th January 1887.
Cholera	2.6	3.0
Small-pox
Fever	9.9	11.1
Bowel-complaints	6.8	5.6
Injury2	.3
Other causes	9.0	8.3

indicating chiefly that there was a sensible abatement in the death-rate from fever with a noticeable increase in that from bowel-complaints.

4. That eliminating small pox from which no death was reported to have occurred, and injury the casualties from which were nowhere large, the rest of the diseases, above enumerated, caused the greatest loss of life in the following Municipalities:—

Cholera.		Fever.		Bowel-complaints.		Other causes.

BURMA COAST.

COAST OF ARAKAN.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has reported that the 4-fathom shoal lying 20 miles S. by W. of Sandoway anchorage is incorrectly placed on the published charts of that coast.

The shoal—which has a depth of only 10 feet over it at low-water spring tides, and composed of large stones—is reported as being distant $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles S. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. of the position at present assigned.

Position—Latitude $18^{\circ} 14' N.$; longitude $94^{\circ} 03' 45'' E.$ (Madras observatory being in longitude $80^{\circ} 14' 51'' E.$ of Greenwich.)

Note.—Mariners should navigate this part of the coast with extreme caution.

RAMREE HARBOUR.

Information has been received that a beacon has been erected to indicate the harbour entrance near the northern end of Dragon shoal, one cable N.N.E. of the large white rock, Ramree harbour.

This beacon—which consists of an iron tripod, carrying a drum and painted red—was intended to have been placed on Flat Reef, which is a large bank of boulders separated from the Dragon shoal by deep water.

Note.—Further notice will be given when the beacon is shifted to its right position.

CHEDUBA STRAIT.

Also, with reference to this Department Notice to Mariners, No. 58, of 21st October 1886, on the breaking adrift of the Central Shoal buoy, northern approach to the Cheduba Strait:—

Further notice has been given that the buoy painted red, and surmounted with a staff and basket, has been replaced on the northern edge of the Central Shoal, North side of the Fairway, in 3 fathoms at low-water spring tides, and lies with the following bearings and distances:—

Rocky Point beacon	N. W. distant $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles.
Dark hill (wooded)	N. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. „ $2\frac{1}{2}$ „
Old beacon (on next point)	N. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ N. „ 1 mile (nearly.)

As a guide to vessels approaching the Cheduba Strait from the northward, and in order to distinguish Beacon island from the other islands, a small beacon has been erected on the summit off the East end of Beacon island, N. W. side of Oheduba island.

Note.—Steam-ships approaching from the northward may steer direct for the Central Shoal buoy on a bearing E. $\frac{1}{4}$ S. in line with the highest summit of the Ramree hills, then pass 2 cables to the South of it, and keep it just open of Rocky point until the leading mark for hauling to the southward comes on, viz., the Dark wooded hill bearing N. N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W.

The beacons, on Rocky point and on the West side of the next point to the eastward, are 30 feet high, constructed of poles with baskets, and are painted white.

The bearings are magnetic.

Directions of the Tidal Streams.

INFORMATION has been received from the Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India that from observations taken on board the Indian Marine Surveying steamer Investigator in January 1887, on a line between the China Ba-keer light-house and Kalegouk island, the direction of the streams were found to be always to or from the centre of the Salwin or Maulmain river, there being no circular set. At springs there was a slack water of half an hour corresponding in time to the high and low water times at Amherst (entrance to Maulmain river—see tide tables), and the maximum current, flood or ebb, was $3\frac{1}{2}$ knots, which is probably exceeded in the wet season.

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED RULES UNDER THE NEW PETROLEUM ACT, XII OF 1886.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 8 and 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1886, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum :—

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules, and defined in the Act, shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules "petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment of such description as the Local Government may from time to time by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Testing Officer appointed by Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot—

(a) What quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying.

(b) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is dangerous.

(c) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is certificated.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated, he shall produce to the pilot the certificate covering the same.

3. If the petroleum is in iron drums with a certified flashing point above 80° by Abel's test and does not exceed 5,000 gallons in quantity,

Or if it is petroleum which has been certified not to be dangerous under section 9 of the Act, and has come from a port in British India as part of a general cargo, and the quantity does not exceed 5,000 gallons,

Or if it is certificated petroleum not exceeding 5,000 gallons in quantity and the master produces the certificate to the pilot,

Or if it is dangerous or uncertificated petroleum not exceeding 40 gallons in quantity, the ship may proceed to any mooring in the port and there discharge the petroleum.

4. Any ship having on board a larger quantity of petroleum than is allowed under rule 3 shall not proceed upwards further than Budge-Budge, and such petroleum, whether landed at the petroleum wharf or otherwise discharged, shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 5 of the Petroleum Act, or the issue of a certificate under section 9, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

5. (1) When a ship is stopped at Budge-Budge under rule 4, the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf shall, as soon as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed or discharged into boats, obtain samples of all the oil thus landed or discharged.

(2) Every different quality of oil shall be separately sampled, and when oil is represented to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as may be necessary, shall forward them to the Testing Officer for report.

6. The Testing Officer shall, as soon as practicable, and ordinarily within 24 hours, after the receipt of the samples, sign a report certifying that they are, or are not, dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and shall forward such report to the office of the Port Commissioners, sending also a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police of Calcutta.

7. No petroleum shall be removed from the wharf limits at Budge-Budge until it has been certified to be not dangerous, except in accordance with a license granted under section 5 of the Act.

8. Unless with the written permission of the Commissioners, no petroleum shall be discharged or landed within the port of Calcutta, except between day-light and dark, and at the wharves expressly set apart for the landing of petroleum.

9. The fee for sampling and testing petroleum shall be five rupees for each sample tested.

10. No smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed at the Budge-Budge Petroleum Wharf, and no receptacle containing petroleum shall be opened or the contents drawn off, within the bunds enclosing the sheds constructed for the storage of petroleum, except in such special place or places in the depôt as may be set apart by the Port Commissioners for that purpose.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

11. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall, on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 5 or section 6 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

12. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores, and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum, manifested as ship's stores, is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta, and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere, shall be final.

Possession of Petroleum.

13. The following rules shall extend, so far as they apply to dangerous petroleum, to all the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and so far as they apply to other petroleum, only to—

- (1) the Town and Port of Calcutta;
- (2) the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta;
- (3) the North Suburban Municipality;
- (4) the South Suburban Municipality;
- (5) the area at Budge-Budge bounded as follows:—On the north by the Budge-Budge Road, on the east by the Aitcheepore Road, on the south by the Gurria Khal, and on the west by the river Hooghly.
- (6) the Municipality of Howrah.

14. Licenses for the possession of petroleum within the town of Calcutta shall be granted only when—(1) the quantity of petroleum to be kept in one place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, and (2) the place intended to be used for the keeping of the petroleum fulfils the following conditions, viz:—(a) If the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 5,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire. (b) If the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place exceeds 5,000 gallons, but does not exceed 50,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least three feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least 20 feet round the building.

15. Licenses for the possession of petroleum outside the town of Calcutta shall, if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, be granted on the same terms as those granted in Calcutta for the possession in one place of not more than 5,000 gallons. If a license for the possession in one place of a larger quantity than 50,000 gallons be required, the license shall be granted on the same conditions as those granted in Calcutta for the possession in one place of petroleum exceeding in quantity 5,000 gallons; provided that, if the place in which the petroleum is to be kept is situated within one hundred yards of the river Hooghly or Tolly's Nullah, or the Circular Canal, the building shall further be surrounded by a wall or earthen embankment not less than four feet high with a trench close to, and completely surrounding, the building, of sufficient capacity to hold all the petroleum stored, and to prevent its escape beyond the limits of the trench in case of fire.

16. The Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police, or any police officer of or above the rank of head-constable appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may enter any place in respect of which a license for the possession of petroleum has been granted, for the purpose of inspecting the same at any time after sunrise and before sunset.

17. The Magistrate of the district, Commissioner of Police, or any police officer as aforesaid may require a sample to be delivered to him from any receptacle containing petroleum stored in any licensed premises. The procedure prescribed in sections 12, 13, and 14 of the Act shall apply to any demand for samples made under this rule and to the testing of such samples.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FRAME RULES UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT XII OF 1886.

WE, the members of the Committee appointed at the 479th Meeting of the Commissioners to consider and report upon the rules for the importation, transport, and storage of petroleum under Act XII of 1886, have the honour to submit the following report:—

Meetings of the Committee were held on the 28th June, and on the 5th and 7th of July.

The general tendency of the alterations which we have suggested is in the direction of relaxing the restrictions provided by the existing rules. We think that the experience of the last five years has shown that some precautions, which were thought necessary when the Act of 1881 was passed, may be dispensed with, and we desire to leave the trade as free as is compatible with public safety.

The rules fall under three general heads—importation, transport, and possession. The matters in respect of which rules may be made to regulate the importation of petroleum are specified in section 9 of the Act; rules relating to transport and possession fall under section 11.

In the preliminary section, we have substituted the testing officer appointed by Government for the Chemical Examiner to Government. This brings the rule into accordance with the wording of the Act, and the Chemical Examiner will not necessarily be the testing officer. He will probably be appointed in the first instance, but it will perhaps hereafter be found convenient to have a resident testing officer at Budge-Budge, so as to avoid the delay of sending the oil up to Calcutta to be tested.

In rule 3 we have raised the quantity of certificated petroleum which may be brought into the Port as part of a general cargo to 5,000 gallons. It has been represented to us that coasting steamers sometimes bring to Calcutta oil which has already passed the test at Bombay or elsewhere, and we think it unnecessary that such oil should be tested again. If the quantity is limited to 5,000 gallons, we think there is no danger of this liberty being abused.

Section 8 of the Act contemplates the possibility of the petroleum being discharged into boats instead of being landed, and we have modified the wording of rule 5 accordingly.

Rule 7 provides for a contingency which is apparently not covered by section 9 of the Act, and we therefore think the rule is necessary.

Rule 8 is intended to apply to the landing of petroleum both at the Budge-Budge wharf and at such other landing places within the Port as may be set apart for the landing of petroleum. We do not think that vessels which bring up 5,000 gallons of oil under rule 3 should be permitted to discharge the oil except at proper times and at suitable places.

The Act contemplates the fixing of fees for the sampling and testing of petroleum, and we accordingly give power in rule 9 to fix the fee at Rs. 5 for each sample tested. But we are disposed to think it unnecessary that this power should be exercised. The amount realized from such fees would be scarcely Rs. 1,000 a year, and it is not worth while, for so small a sum, to levy a charge which would certainly be unpopular, and might in some cases be troublesome to collect. We understand that no fees are charged at present for testing oil, and we recommend that Government should be asked to continue to allow the oil to be tested free of charge.

We have extended the rules for the possession of petroleum to the area at Budge-Budge surrounding the Commissioners' wharf and sheds. We think it undesirable, and indeed dangerous, that large quantities of petroleum should be stored in the immediate vicinity of the Commissioners' sheds, except under the precautions provided by the rules.

In rule 19 we have left the charge for storage licenses as it stands at present. The scale was fixed after full and long discussion, and though we understand that the dealers complain of it as too high, we have not found sufficient grounds for altering it. The matter appears to us of less importance, because it is in contemplation to levy a municipal tax of 2 annas a case on all petroleum stored in the town, and if this proposal takes effect, the municipal tax will presumably be substituted for the present license fee.

Rule 23 declares that no license shall be required for the Port Commissioners' storage sheds at Budge-Budge or elsewhere. It is clearly unnecessary that these sheds, which are erected for the public convenience, should be licensed.

In the rules regarding transport, we have found it necessary to make special provision for the case of transport by carts. A cart does not take so much as 500 gallons of oil, and therefore no license is required for it; but the Advocate-General has given an opinion that a batch or string of carts, starting together, and conveying oil which is the property of one person, must be licensed. We propose to allow the owner of the oil to take out a general license, which shall be in force for 12 months, and to give passes to the cartmen who are in actual charge of the petroleum. A fee of Rs. 100 will be charged for such a general license. At the same time, we are of opinion that the earliest opportunity should be taken to vest Government with the power to free carts from the necessity for being licensed when carrying non-dangerous petroleum, not only because we are strongly of opinion that there is no necessity for interfering with the movement of non-dangerous petroleum when moved in quantities under 500 gallons on each cart, but also because the licensing of carts would lead to much public inconvenience, and probably be used as a means for extortion and oppression by native policemen. For special licenses, which will generally be for transport by boat, we have reduced the amount of the fee from Re. 1 per 1,000 gallons to Re. 1 per 5,000 gallons. We have authorized the Port Commissioners to grant transport licenses at Budge-Budge. It will manifestly be the most convenient plan that an owner who wishes to remove his oil from the sheds, should be able to obtain a license on the spot from the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf.

We recommend that the rules, as now revised, should be sent to the Commissioner of Police for communication to the Legal Remembrancer.

PART III.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, received the assent of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on the 15th January 1887, and having received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on 31st idem, is hereby published for general information:—

ACT NO. I OF 1887.

An Act to provide for a Survey of the Town of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the survey and demarcation of lands in the Town of Calcutta, it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act shall be called "The Calcutta Survey Act, 1887," and shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

It extends to the Town of Calcutta within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Survey" includes identification of boundaries and all other operations antecedent to, or connected with, survey.

"Superintendent" means the Superintendent of Survey under this Act.

"Land" includes anything attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Premises" means any land described as such in the Registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta or as a holding in the Registers of the Calcutta Collectorate.

"Owner" includes—

- (a) the person having permanent interest in any land or premises;
- (b) an agent of, or manager on behalf of, such person;
- (c) a trustee of such person;
- (d) a body corporate in which land is vested by operation of Statute.

3. The Local Government may, whenever it thinks fit, order, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in the Town of Calcutta, and for such purpose may appoint a Superintendent of Survey and one or more Assistant Superintendents of Survey. The Assistant Superintendents of Survey shall exercise such powers as may be delegated to them by the Superintendent.

4. The Superintendent of Survey shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power either by himself or by an Assistant Superintendent of Survey, or by other officers employed in the survey, to enter between the hours of sunrise and sunset, upon any land or premises within the local limits aforesaid, without being liable to any legal proceedings whatsoever on account of such entry, or of anything done on such land or premises in pursuance of this Act.

Provided that no such entry shall be made upon lands or premises which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof or without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of the intention to do so.

5. Before entering on any land or premises for the purposes of survey, the Superintendent may cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner of the land or premises about to be surveyed, and on the owners of contiguous lands or premises, calling upon them to attend either personally or by agent on such land or premises before him or before such officer as may be authorized by him in that behalf, within a specified time (which shall not be less than three days after the service of such notice), for the purpose of pointing out boundaries, and of affording such information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act, and every person on whom such notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice and to give any information which may be required so far as he may be able to give it.

6. If after due service of notice under the last preceding section, any person fails to appear without showing sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Superintendent, the Superintendent, or such officer as may be authorized by him, may proceed with the survey, and the person who is so absent shall be bound by the results of the survey in the same manner and to the same extent as if the survey were made in his presence.

7. If in the course of survey it shall come to the notice of the Superintendent that a dispute exists as to any boundaries which should be surveyed, the Superintendent shall cause an inquiry to be held by an Assistant Superintendent, as hereinafter provided, for the purpose of determining such boundaries.

8. When any dispute exists as to any boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent who may be authorized by the Superintendent in this behalf shall cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the parties concerned requiring them to appear before him in person, or by an authorized agent on a specified day, and to produce evidence of possession of the land in dispute. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the specified day, or on such other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, hear the parties, receive the evidence produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence as he may think necessary, and without reference to the merits of the claim of any of such parties to a right to possess the land in dispute, decide which of the parties is in possession of the said land at the time of the survey.

9. For the purposes of the enquiry aforesaid, the Assistant Superintendent shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

10. After the enquiry has been completed, the Assistant Superintendent shall pass an order in writing, defining clearly the subject of dispute and shall record his decision and the reasons for such decision.

11. An appeal shall lie from any order passed by an Assistant Superintendent under the last preceding section to the Board of Revenue, or to such other authority as the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint in this behalf, if preferred within thirty days from the date of such order.

12. In every case of disputed boundaries, the Assistant Superintendent authorized to hold the enquiry may, on the written application of the parties, refer the dispute to one or more arbitrators nominated by the parties respectively, and shall fix such time, and allow such extension of time, as may seem reasonable for the delivery of the award:

Provided that if it appears to the Assistant Superintendent that the Local Government or the Corporation of Calcutta is interested in any such dispute, he shall appoint in the former case, the Collector, or Deputy Collector, of Calcutta, and in the latter case, the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Surveyor of the Corporation, one of the arbitrators, unless the parties agree to such officer being appointed sole arbitrator.

13. Where an arbitrator nominated by a party refuses to act or becomes incapable of acting by reason of death or other sufficient cause, the party by whom he was nominated may, by a written application to the Assistant Superintendent, nominate another arbitrator, and on being satisfied that the application has been made on sufficient grounds, he shall confirm such nomination, and the arbitrator so appointed may thereupon proceed with the enquiry.

14. If the arbitrators differ, the award shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority; if they are equally divided in opinion, it shall be competent to them or to the Assistant Superintendent, on the written application of the arbitrators or of the parties to the arbitration to appoint an umpire, and the decision of the umpire determining the boundaries in dispute shall have the force of an award of the arbitrators.

15. The Assistant Superintendent shall, on the application of the arbitrators or umpire, issue the same processes to parties and witnesses as he may issue in enquiries held by himself.

16. If the arbitrators or the umpire appointed under the preceding sections fail to deliver the award within the time allowed by the Assistant Superintendent, he may make an order super-seding the arbitration, and in such case he shall proceed with the enquiry.

17. The award shall be made in writing, and shall be signed by the persons making it, and shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent with any evidence which may have been taken by the arbitrators or the umpire. The Superintendent shall lay down the boundaries in accordance with the award.

18. The Superintendent may at any time cause to be erected on any land which is to be, or has been, surveyed under this Act, temporary or permanent boundary marks of such materials and in such number and manner as he may determine to be sufficient.

19. When any temporary boundary mark has been erected under the last preceding section, the Superintendent may cause a notice in writing under his hand to be served on the owner or person in occupation of the land or premises whereon, or adjoining which, such boundary mark is situate, requiring him to maintain and keep in repair such boundary mark till the survey has been completed.

20. After the survey of any part of the Town has been completed, the Superintendent shall deposit all maps, field books, proceedings, awards, and all other documents connected with the survey of such part in the Municipal Office of the Corporation of Calcutta.

Any person interested in the survey may, at any time within two months from the date of such deposit, which date shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette, inspect such documents free of charge.

And if during such period any objection to the survey be lodged with the Superintendent, such objection shall be decided by the Superintendent or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

21. After all objections lodged under the last preceding section have been decided, the Local Government shall, if it approves the survey, signify such approval by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

22. No suit shall lie to set aside any demarcation of boundaries made under the provisions of this Act unless brought within one year from the date of the notification mentioned in the last preceding section.

23. The Local Government may lay down rules not being inconsistent with this Act to provide for the preparation of maps and for the collection and record of any information in respect of any land to be surveyed under this Act, and generally for the proper performance of all things to be done and for the regulation of all proceedings to be taken under this Act.

24. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served on any person may be served—

(a)—by delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person usually resides or holds his office, or carries on his business, or by delivering the same to an agent or servant of such person, or to a male adult member of his family and by fixing a copy on some conspicuous part of the land or premises to which it relates, or

(b)—by sending a registered cover through the post office containing such notice directed to the said person at the place where he resides:

Provided that after the publication of the notification referred to in section 21, no survey made under this Act shall be vitiated for any defect in the service of notice.

25. Whoever fails to comply with a requisition contained in any notice duly served under section 5 or section 8 of this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

26. No proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of any informality, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of the omission to serve any notice on an owner whose name is not registered as owner in the Calcutta Collectorate or in the registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta.

27. The Local Government may extend the whole or any of the provisions of this Act to the whole or any part of the Suburbs of Calcutta, which may hereafter be amalgamated for municipal purposes with the Town of Calcutta.

The Deputy Commissioner shall determine the number of circles into which his district shall be divided for the purposes of this Act, and the respective limits of such circles and the number of village policemen to be appointed for each village within each circle, and shall appoint a circle tehsildar for each circle: Provided that there shall be at least two village policemen appointed for every village in which there are one hundred and fifty houses, and one additional village policeman for every complete number of one hundred houses beyond such number of one hundred and fifty.

6. Wherever any zemindar or under-tenure-holder holds subject to the condition, expressed or implied, of maintaining the village police within his zemindari or under-tenure, he shall be liable to pay the amount determined by the Deputy Commissioner under the last preceding section.

7. In cases other than those referred to in the last preceding section, the amount required for the salaries of the village policemen, together with a sum, not exceeding three and a half annas in the rupee of such amount, to provide for payment of the expenses of collection and losses from the non-realisation of sums from defaulters, shall be assessed on each village;

Such list, when sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner, shall be published at some conspicuous place within the village, and shall remain in force until altered by the Deputy Commissioner.

9. The amount at which each person is assessed under the last preceding section shall be fixed according to the circumstances and the property to be protected of such person:

Provided that the amount to be assessed on any one person shall not exceed one rupee per mensem in the case of a zemindar, under-tenure-holder or trader, nor eight annas per mensem in the case of an ordinary ryot:

Provided also that all persons who, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, are too poor to pay half an anna per mensem, shall be exempted from assessment.

Notice of such alteration shall be given to the tehsildar of the circle to which such village belongs before the month of Magh in the year preceding the year in which the alteration is to take effect.

When any such alteration is made, the circle tehsildar shall prepare and submit revised lists of the sums payable by each person.

13. The circle tehsildar shall collect from each village in his circle, within the first month of each quarter, the amount payable by each of the persons assessed in such village, and shall grant printed receipts for the same, and shall pay the amount so collected to the District Superintendent of Police, who shall place the sum so received by him to the credit of the Chaukidari Fund in the district treasury.

14. The District Superintendent of Police shall remit, before the fifteenth of each month, to the Sub-Inspector of Police of each thana, the pay due to all village policemen appointed under this Act in villages situated within the local jurisdiction of such thana on account of the month next preceding, and it shall be the duty of such Sub-Inspector of Police to hand over to each village policeman at the thana the pay due to him on account of the next preceding month, and to take a receipt for the same.

15. Whenever any person assessed under this Part fails to pay the amount due by him for any quarter before the end of the first month of such quarter, the circle tehsildar shall apply to the Deputy Commissioner for the attachment and sale of any moveable property belonging to such person.

16. The Deputy Commissioner shall thereupon issue a writing in the form in Schedule A hereto annexed, signed by him, authorising the circle tehsildar, or such other person as may be therein named, to levy, by the distraint and sale of a sufficient portion of the moveable property of such defaulters, the amount of their respective arrears, together with sums equal to a proportionate share of the cost of the distraint and sale.

17. The person so authorized shall seize and keep in his own custody such portion of the moveable property of such defaulters as he shall deem sufficient, and shall make an inventory of all moveable property so seized, and shall at the same time give notice by beat of drum of the time and place where it shall be sold.

The time of sale shall not be less than five nor more than ten days from the time of the proclamation thereof.

18. 19. Whenever any person whose name has been included in any list of defaulters disputes his liability to pay the amount mentioned in such list, or any portion thereof, he may apply to the Deputy Commissioner either orally or in writing, stating the grounds of his objection, and the Deputy Commissioner shall examine his objection and pass such order thereon as to him shall seem proper.

20. No arrears of any assessment payable under this Act shall be levied by distress after the expiration of one year from the day on which the same shall have become due.

21. An order under the hand of the Deputy Commissioner in the form in Schedule C hereto annexed shall be furnished to such zemindar or under-tenure-holder.

31. Subject to the approval of the Deputy Commissioner, the District Superintendent of Police may appoint, and for any misconduct or neglect of duty may dismiss, any village policeman or road patrol.

32. No village policeman or road patrol shall withdraw himself from the duties of his office without the express permission of the District Superintendent of Police, or of some other officer duly authorized to grant such permission; and no village policeman or road patrol shall resign his office without the permission of the said District Superintendent, unless he has given to his superior officer, at least two months previously, a written notice of his intention to resign.

33. Every village policeman or road patrol who is guilty of any wilful misconduct in his office or neglect of his duty, such misconduct or neglect not being an offence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, and not being of so grave a character as, in the opinion of the District Superintendent of Police, to require his dismissal from his office, shall be liable, under the order of the District Superintendent, to a fine not exceeding one month's salary.

34. Every suit brought against the Deputy Commissioner, or any of his officers, or against any person acting under his direction, for anything done or purporting to be done by them under this Act, shall be commenced within four months next after the accrual of the cause of action, and not afterwards.

35. The Lieutenant-Governor may, if he thinks fit, appoint any officer to perform the functions of a Deputy Commissioner under this Act.

36. Every notice under this Act shall be served either personally on the person to whom the notice is directed, or by affixing a true copy thereof on some conspicuous part of his dwelling-house or principal cutcherry within the district.

37. Nothing contained in this Act shall diminish or in any way affect any liability, duty, or obligation of any zemindar or other landholder, under any law for the time being in force, to report crimes or offences occurring within his estate or tenure.

Murder, culpable homicide, rape, dacoity, robbery, theft, mischief by fire, house-breaking, counterfeiting coin, causing grievous hurt, riot, and all attempts and preparations to commit, and abetments of, the said offences.

OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ACT VIII (B.C.) of 1878 has proved a failure, because the intelligent, influential headman whom it assumed to exist in every village in Chutia Nagpur has in fact no existence. It is therefore necessary to provide legally for the assessment and collection of the rural police tax by other agency. This Bill enables the Deputy Commissioner to group together a number of villages, and for each group or circle to appoint a paid tehsildar, who will perform the duty of assessment and collection, which the Act imposed on the mythical headman.

Beyond this substitution of "circle tehsildar" for village headman, the Bill does not materially change the law.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 11th February, 1887, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT NO. VI OF 1887.

An Act to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1882.

1882. WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1882, in manner hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1882. 1. After section 200 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Insertion of new section after section 200.

"200A. (1) In the distribution of the assets of any company being wound up under this Act, there shall be paid in priority to all other debts—

"(a) all revenue, taxes, cesses and rates, whether payable to Her Majesty or to a local authority, due from the company at the date of the commencement of the winding-up, and having become due and payable within the twelve months next before that date;

"(b) all wages or salary of any clerk or servant in respect of services rendered to the company within the two months next before the commencement of the winding-up, not exceeding one thousand rupees for each clerk or servant; and

"(c) all wages of any labourer or workman, not exceeding five hundred rupees for each, whether payable for time or piece-work, in respect of services rendered to the company within the two months next before the commencement of the winding-up.

"(2) The foregoing debts shall rank equally among themselves, and shall be paid in full, unless the assets of the company are insufficient to meet them, in which case they shall abate in equal proportions among themselves.

"(3) Subject to the retention of such sums as may be necessary for the cost of administration or otherwise, the liquidator or official liquidator shall discharge the foregoing debts forthwith, so far as the assets of the company are and will be sufficient to meet them, as and when the assets come into the hands of the liquidator or official liquidator."

S. HARVEY JAMES,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1882, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 7th January, 1887:—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to, which the Bill to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1882, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted on the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Assam, No. 1657, dated 14th August, 1886 [Paper No. 1].
 From Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 2097, dated 25th August, 1886 [Paper No. 2].
 From Secretary for Berar to Resident, Hyderabad, No. 290 G., dated 25th August, 1886 [Paper No. 3].
 From Under Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, No. 3980—233, dated 31st August, 1886 [Paper No. 4].
 From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Burma, No. 810—22 L., dated 31st August, 1886 [Paper No. 5].
 From Chief Commissioner, Ajmere-Merwara, No. 1055—690-II, dated 14th September, 1886 [Paper No. 6].
 From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Coorg, No. 1670—3256, dated 14th September, 1886 [Paper No. 7].
 From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 2546, dated 23rd September, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 8].
 From Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 767—VII—328-10, dated 2nd October, 1886 [Paper No. 9].
 From Acting Under Secretary to Government, Bombay, No. 5813, dated 11th October, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 10].
 Endorsement by Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 2863, dated 23rd October, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 11].
 From Chief Secretary to Government, Bengal, No. 3322 J., dated 19th November, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 12].

terms to fiscal debts due from a bankrupt to the Crown, we deem it desirable to give priority in similar terms to like debts due to the Crown from a Company which is being wound up. This saving may not be absolutely necessary in the case of debts due to the Crown (L. R. 9 Ch. D. 469 and 5 Bom. H. C. R. 23); but it is proposed, as in the Bankruptcy Bill, to give to rates and taxes payable to local authorities the same priority as to Crown debts, and in the case of some at least of those rates and taxes an express declaration of their priority will be necessary.

3. The salaries of clerks and servants being paid monthly in this country, we consider it will be sufficient to give priority to those salaries for the same time, namely, two months, as priority is given to wages of labourers and workmen by the Companies Act, 1883 (46 & 47 Vic., c. 28). But we agree with the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades Association and other authorities that in this country it is proper to give priority to the salary of a clerk or servant for a larger sum than in England, and we have proposed to raise to Rs. 1,000 the limit up to which the salary of a clerk or servant is to have priority.

As regards the priority to be given to the wages of labourers and workmen, we propose to follow the Companies Act, 1883, in limiting it to wages in respect of services rendered during the two months before the commencement of the winding up.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to prescribe the mode of valuing certain suits for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of Courts with respect thereto was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 28th January, 1887:—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to prescribe the mode of valuing certain suits for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of Courts with respect thereto was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted on the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

2. We have divided the Bill into three Parts, of which Part I deals with suits relating to land and Part II with other suits, Part III containing supplemental provisions.

Part I is to be brought into force by notification of the Governor General in Council, and it is proposed that Part II and the material portion of Part III come into force on the first day of July next.

3. We have excepted from the operation of section 8 (section 4 of the Bill as introduced) the suits to which paragraph ix of section 7 of the Court-fees Act relates. In a suit for foreclosure or sale the principal and interest due under the mortgage-deed represent the value of the suit for purposes of jurisdiction, while the value for the computation of court-fees is the principal only.

4. We have added to the Bill a section in the terms of section 32 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, and have proposed to repeal that section of that Act.

5. We have so amended section 11 (section 5 of the Bill as introduced) as to give the appellate Court a discretion as to proceeding with an appeal in a suit which...

*If we are to have an Act like this (the Bombay authorities do not see the necessity for one, and I entirely agree in their views), it should be either simultaneous with or follow the amending Court-fees Act; because the object of the Act is "to prescribe a simple mode of valuing suits," and that will depend on the rules laid down. These rules cannot be laid down now, because it is said we have no data for framing them, and they will take a long time to collect. If so, there can be no harm, it seems to me, in postponing the passing of the Act until we get all the materials before us. At present we are merely doing some administrative work; the real legislative work will be done by one of the executive departments. To such a procedure I am opposed on principle.

In other respects I agree with my colleagues.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 11th February, 1887, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. VIII OF 1887.

An Act to abolish Military Courts of Requests as established by Indian Military Law.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal that portion of the Indian Military Law which relates to Military Courts of Requests and other military tribunals having jurisdiction with respect to actions of a civil nature ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

*Proceedings of a meeting of the Muhammadan Educational Endowments Committee, held on the 8th January 1887.

PRESENT :

HON'BLE G. C. PAUL, C.I.E., Advocate-General, President.

AMEER ALI, Esq.

NAWAB ABDUL LATIF, KHAN BAHADUR, C.I.E.

HON'BLE ABDUL JUBBAR.

NAWAB MEER MAHOMED ALI.

P. NOLAN, Esq.

THE records of the proceedings of the last meeting were read and confirmed. It was resolved that they should be published.

The following questions, the considerations of which were postponed from the last meeting, were taken into consideration :—

14. Should the Committee be entrusted with the management of the Mohsin Fund, as suggested in our preliminary report ?

15. From what source are the expenses of the Committee to be met ?

Mr. Nolan explained that the revenue of the Mohsin Fund amounted to Rs. 1,12,072, of which Rs. 56,565 a year was devoted to the support of Muhammadan education in the Lower Provinces generally by maintaining Madrassas, scholarships, and Moulvies attached to various English schools; also by paying the school fees of Muhammadans. The distribution was made by Government, on the advice of the Director of Public Instruction. If the control were transferred to the Committee, that body would have definite functions, and a ready means would be provided for meeting the contingent expenses, which would be of small amount—say under a thousand rupees a year.

Nawab Abdul Latif stated that the educational funds of this endowment were at first devoted to the maintenance of the Hooghly College, which was not a Muhammadan institution. Government had some years ago taken over the cost of the college, and since then had distributed the Mohsin foundation with great care and discretion. The Muhammadans were perfectly satisfied with the present management, and it was therefore undesirable to introduce a change. He had little faith in consultative bodies and committees, under which the majority ruled and no one else was heard. The members might be of the same class as an official, apparently relied on by the Collector of his district as a representative Muhammadan, whose recommendation that all wakfs should be abolished was before the Committee. The history of the Mohsin endowment showed the practical use of the old Regulation, since superseded, as under it the malversation of the Mutwali had been stopped, and a large revenue made available for purposes of general utility. What was wanted was to revive that Regulation. The local agents under it consulted the leading Muhammadans, and were in accord with public opinion. He thought the Commissioner or Collector as local agent should have powers to call small meetings of those interested, relations of the Mutwalis and others to influence the conduct of the management of endowments. In this matter he spoke as the representative of a large class.

The President observed that if the Muhammadans were divided by differences on questions touching on religion, there might be a difficulty in their working together on a committee.

Mr. Ameer Ali said that there were no such differences. All Muhammadans were in favour of maintaining the Muhammadan law of wakfs, and he had always contended that wakfs were religious. They were all agreed as to the desirability of preventing malversation. He appreciated Government management; but having seen more of it than most men, he considered that there were objections to it, as it was practically carried out by the Board of Revenue and the Executive. He was therefore in favour of trusting the Mohsin funds to a Committee. On the other hand, he in no way opposed the Nawab Abdul Latif's proposal as to Government officers in the interior acting with Muhammadans of influence.

Nawab Meer Mahomed explained that it was not in the case of the Mohsin funds proposed that the Central Committee should supersede any local committee, but merely that it should do work now done by Government without the advice of those concerned.

The Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar said that, in the case of the Mohsin fund, we should let well alone. He had no faith in associations or committees.

After some further discussion as to the practicability of making other endowments contribute to the expenses of the Committee, it was resolved (Nawab Abdul Latif and the Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar dissenting) that the management of the Mohsin educational funds should be entrusted to the Central Committee, without interference with the Committee now managing the religious funds of that institution, and that the cost of the Committee might be defrayed from the Mohsin educational funds.

The President's proposal for the conferring on civil courts of power to separate the educational from the religious portion of mixed endowments, on the principle of assigning for education all the surplus, then came under consideration.

Mr. Nolan pointed out that the proposal was similar to one made by Mr. Ameer Ali at their meeting of the 2nd April. He had then, at the request of the President, undertaken to formulate in a written representation the views on the subject of the gentlemen with whom he acted. Such a statement, coming from a representative source—indeed from those whose suggestions were the origin of the Committee—would form the best basis for discussion.

Mr. Ameer Ali undertook to supply such a statement at the next meeting, and the consideration of the subject was adjourned. The President observed that Nawab Abdul Latif had also expressed distinct views, and requested him to reduce them to writing. To this the Nawab assented. Nawab Meer Mahomed observed that he hoped the question would be considered of the disposal of surplus funds where all the specified objects of the endowment had been fulfilled.

The Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar presented copies of his opinions as to the meaning of the word talib-ul ilm to the effect that it designated religious students, and moved that the opinions of the most pious and learned Muhammadans be taken on the question what interpretation should be put on that word when used in deeds of endowment by the Muhammadans of Bengal.

Mr. Ameer Ali did not object to an enquiry as to the meaning of the word generally—it spoke for itself, being simply the compound-seeker-of-knowledge. But he strongly deprecated an enquiry as to what significance it bore in legal documents, the construction of which was a question for the courts.

The Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar said it meant a seeker of ilm, that is, knowledge of divine subjects. Mr. Ameer Ali observed that the Caliph Haroun Alraschid, in pursuit of ilm, had sent for Aristotle and other Greek books, and even made war to obtain them.

Nawab Abdul Latif thought that the enquiry should be made, as he and another member of the Committee wished for it, and had a right to collect such evidence as they considered relevant to their case. Mr. Nolan concurred.

The President thought that, as a legal officer appointed to preside, he had a right to object to a question which was perplexing, embarrassing, and confusing. It was resolved that the question should not be put.

A memorandum of the Committee of the Central National Muhammadan Association, and a reply by the Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar, dated the 7th February 1887, were read. Copies of these papers are appended to the proceedings.

The President observed that the Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar in his note drew a distinction between religious and secular education. This was not known to the Regulations, which, in dealing with endowments, made the distinction between religious objects and secular, apparently including education of whatever kind under the latter head. Education should be dealt with as one subject, and the religious element could not be excluded.

The Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar quoted in reply a hadis or tradition from Meshkat, which declared that ilm, or knowledge, was of three kinds—the koran, tradition, and the interpretation of these, all the rest being unnecessary.

Mr. Ameer Ali moved that the six recommendations in the memorandum should be considered one by one.

Nawab Abdul Latif proposed, as an amendment, that a copy of the memorandum be sent to the Muhammadan Literary Association for the favour of an expression of opinion. He was not as yet prepared to pronounce on these important proposals, and could take no part in any discussion which might take place as to them.

Mr. Nolan said that by adopting the Nawab's proposal, Mr. Ameer Ali would gain time to elaborate the plan of the Central National Muhammadan Association, which was at present a mere outline. For instance, it was proposed "to simplify the procedure at present existing as to the institution of suits," no details being given as to how this was to be done. But what simplification of procedure would be advantageous in endowment suits that would not apply to all litigation? This should be clearly explained. It was also proposed to appoint a special officer in each district to institute and conduct endowment suits; but was not this the business of the Government Pleader? The third suggestion was that "educational funds" should be under the control of a Central Committee; was this to apply to such endowments as that of Aktarannissa Khatoon, by the tahleutnamahs of which it is provided that "the students shall receive only religious education in Muhammadanism?" The fourth proposal was to give the Civil Courts "the discretion vested in the Kazi under the Muhammadan law." What was this discretion? Section 539 of the Civil Procedure seemed to give the Civil Courts absolute power in regulating the execution of the pious founder's wishes, and a Kazi could have no more. Then it was proposed to create District Committees to advise and "to exercise a general supervision:" it would be well to state definitely the powers of these bodies. It needs no law to authorise the proffering of good advice, of which we all get enough, and a power of general supervision seems a vague phrase. The last proposal imposed on the trustees of religious as well as on those of secular endowments the obligation to render annual accounts to a Central Committee. He had at one time to receive and examine the accounts of the four or five endowments under the Board of Revenue, and it was no easy task. Religious endowments existed in hundreds. Was the Association prepared to recommend the establishment of a large central office for their supervision, and would the Advocate-General consent to preside over a Committee having such laborious functions?

The President observed that a more summary procedure would diminish the cost and delay of this form of litigation. The employment of a special officer would assist the Government Pleader of the district. The President would give the Central Committee control over all endowment funds assigned for education, whether the instruction given was or was not religious. The Committee's power should, however, be exercised in accordance with the testator's expressed wishes: thus funds left for religious education should not be appropriated to secular education. The right of general supervision to be conferred on District Committees would give the members the right to make local inspections, and similar provisions had been found effective in other cases. As to the labours of the Central Committee, he had no objection to preside over such a body, and did not doubt that the necessary establishment would be provided.

Mr. Ameer Ali expressed his general agreement with the President.

The motion of Nawab Abdul Latif was then agreed to.

MEMORANDUM.

THE Committee of the Central National Muhammadan Association, in submitting their proposals to the Muhammadan Endowment Committee, desire, in the first place, to explain exactly the objects the Association has in view in seeking the legislative and administrative assistance of Government for the protection and preservation of Muhammadan endowments.

2 The Endowment Committee was appointed at the instance, and upon the motion, of the Central National Muhammadan Association. Perceiving the ruin which had overtaken Muhammadan endowments within the last half century, and appreciating the gravity of the causes which interfered with the progress of the Muhammadans, the Association had urged upon the Government the expediency of adopting effective measures to enable the Muhammadan community to preserve their existing wakfs, and to utilise such as contained provisions for the support of education towards the advancement of their welfare and progress. The Government was pleased to accept this suggestion, and the enquiry which has been instituted by the Endowment Committee has conclusively established the fact that there still exists a large number of endowments in this Province for various pious and charitable purposes; and that in very few instances the proceeds of the wakfs are duly applied to the objects for which they were created. It is admitted on all hands that within the last few years a great many wakf properties, owing to the neglect or misconduct of the Trustees, have been sold in execution of decrees as private heritable properties. And it is conceded by those who were at first opposed to the objects of the enquiry that a system of supervision and control on the part of Government, on the lines of Regulation XIX of 1810, would be extremely beneficial. The admission involved in this concession justifies completely the action of the Association in urging Government interference for the protection of Muhammadan endowments. It is to be regretted that the objects of the Association in making this appeal to Government were misrepresented in certain quarters. It was suggested that the Association was anxious to divert the Muhammadan endowments to objects alien to the wishes of the donors. The Association thinks it necessary therefore to state most emphatically that the sole object it has in view is the preservation of Muhammadan endowments, and the application of such funds as are available for the advancement of Muhammadan education to their legitimate purpose.

3. The Association has never advocated the exclusive study of the English language among the Muhammadans; it has always insisted upon the study of Arabic and Persian by Muhammadans, and the action it has taken from time to time shows conclusively that its endeavour has been to promote Muhammadan education upon a traditional basis. But it cannot ignore the exigencies of the present situation, or forget that, if the Muhammadans are to compete on equal terms with the Hindus or other communities, they must study the language of the rulers of the land in the same way, and to the same extent, as the other subjects of Her Majesty. The enquiry instituted by the Endowment Committee has amply shown that there are many endowments in this Province the wakfnamas of which contain provisions for the support of madrassas and students; and that, in almost every case, the support accorded by the trustees is merely nominal. The funds which ought to be applied in support of students are, in the majority of instances, misappropriated. Considering how the general poverty of the Muhammadans has stood in the way of their educational progress, this Association believes that the funds available from these sources would prove of appreciable benefit to the Muhammadan student class. It has been contended that the provisions in the wakfnamas relating to the support of the students (tālib-ul-ilm) must be construed in a very restricted sense as referring only to the support of such students as devote themselves to the study of Muhammadan divinity. The Association regrets it cannot admit this contention to be correct. There is no ground for the proposition in question, and it is contradicted by the experience of Muhammadan foundations in other countries, where the application of the funds has been widened and liberalised with the advance of times and the altered circumstances of the age. With reference to this point, the opinion of Moulāna Abool Ehya Mahomed Naim of Lucknow, a distinguished Sunni Doctor of Muhammadan divinity, given by him in his evidence in the Sasseram Endowment case, is of considerable value. He says, "tulbas are those who acquire secular knowledge;" and again "it is proper to learn the science of the ruling monarch if such knowledge does not militate against one's religion." It is admitted that the word tālib-ul-ilm is generic and means a student (a seeker of knowledge) generally. From the earliest times, not only in India, but in Muhammadan countries, the study of every branch of learning and science has been promoted and encouraged by sovereigns and chiefs and the well-to-do people, and the mosques and madrassas have formed the centres of Muhammadan education. From Mansur Dawānīki, Harūn and Māmūn downwards, there has been one continuous succession of supporters of foreign learning. At Damascus, at Bagdad, Cordova, Cairo, Samarcund, &c., the study of Greek science and Greek learning was always encouraged. And at this moment, in the madrassa attached to the mosque of Al-Azharia, the centre of Sunni orthodoxy, European languages are studied. It has never been contended that the study of Greek under Māmūn was sinful, or that the study of French in the madrassas of Constantinople and Cairo is sinful. The idea that the study of English is sinful and must be regarded as alien to the wishes of the donors is opposed to all the teachings of history and of the Prophet.

4. That the word tālib-ul-ilm means a student or seeker of knowledge in all its branches, and is not restricted to a student of divinity alone, will be apparent from the following passages occurring in the Koran:—

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| * علم آدم الاسماء كلها | "He imparted to Adam knowledge of the name of all things. |
| * واذا علمتك الكتاب والحكمة | "And when I taught thee the Book (Koran) and the science." |
| * يوني الحكمة من يشاء | "He giveth knowledge unto whom he pleaseth." |

In the Hadis (traditional sayings of the Prophet), there occur the following:—

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--|
| * طلب العلم فريضة | "Seeking of knowledge is obligatory." |
| * اطلبوا العلم ولو كان باليمن | "Seek knowledge even if it be in China." |
| * علموا صبيانكم الرمي | "Instruct your children in the knowledge of archery." |
| * العلم ايمان وعلم الاديان | "Science is of two kinds, one physical and the other religious." |

5. Besides these there are numerous passages in the Koran and the Hadis in which the words ilm, tālim and taallum are used, indicating clearly that in the term ilm is included every branch of knowledge or learning, whether intellectual or religious, theoretical or practical : as, for instance, the knowledge of archery, the knowledge of anatomy, the knowledge of names, and the knowledge of sciences. In the madrassas founded by the ancient Muhammadan sovereigns and nobles, mentioned in the Prolegomena of Ibn Khaldūn, and in the work of Ibn-i-Khallican and the Husan-ul-Mahazara, intellectual instruction was imparted in Arabic as well as Syrian, Greek, and the Persian languages. And in the madrassas of Persia, Khorasan, Turkistan, and Hindustan the languages of fire-worshippers, manichæans, Monguls and Hindus were, and are still being, taught. The endowments bestowed upon those madrassas have always been applied to the benefit of the tālib-ul-ilm in general. In the Prolegomena of the Kashf-uz zanoon (by Haji Khalifa) there occurs the following remarkable passage :—

المنظر الاول في العلوم الاسلامية
وهو على صنفين طبعي وهي
العلوم الحكمة ونقلية باخذ
عن وضعه وهي العلوم العقلية
لا مجال فيها للعقل *

“ Chapter I.—Regarding Islamic knowledge—
“ Islamic knowledge is of two kinds, one intellectual, namely, the knowledge of sciences, and the other traditional, namely, that which has descended in succession, and into which human reason has no access.”

And in the seventh chapter of the same book is written thus—

وايضا ان يستبين بشي من
العلوم تقليد الماصعة من
الجهالة بل يجب ان ياخذ من
كل خطأ ولا يكن ممن يذم
العلم و يعدوه لجهالة مثل
ذمهم المنطق والعلوم الحكمة

منها

“ The seeker of knowledge should always remain mindful of this, that he does not depreciate any knowledge, being induced to do so by the ignorant. He should drink a little from the fountain of every kind of knowledge, and he should not be like one of those who, from their ignorance, speak ill of the sciences, and are their enemies, as, for instance, an ignorant person not knowing how much of what knowledge is good, and how much bad, speaks ill of logic and the sciences universally.”

6. Nor does there exist in the Muhammadan system any such distinction as has been recognised by the British Courts of Justice in this country, especially since the passing of Act XX of 1863 between secular and religious endowments. Every act, the object of which is to do good to others, is regarded as a religious act, and consequently every endowment or wakf created for a charitable or pious purpose stands in the same category, and is governed by the same rules as a purely religious wakf. A madrassa in which foreign learning is taught is as much a wakf under the Muhammadan Law as mosque. In this connection, the Association would mention that the cypres doctrine is carried to the utmost limit in the Muhammadan system. If one makes an appropriation for charity generally, without any specification of the purpose,—

“ It will be applied on the poor and all purposes by which an approach (to God) might be made, like conferring benefit on students, building mosques and schools and bridges and mushāhid, the assistance of pilgrims, supplying shrouds, for the dead, and it is allowable to spend for the general benefit of Mussulmans.”

In the Jawāhir, which is a Shiah work, the principle is stated thus—

“ If a person constitute a wakf for a Maslahat, such as a musjid, a bridge, or some object of a similar character, and all traces of its use and effect have totally vanished, in such a case the income of the wakf property would be expended on good purposes generally. Preference, however, would be given to an object approaching in character to the object of the original dedication.”

And this view is repeated in another place,—

“If the person were to make a dedication generally for charitable purposes, then without any difference of opinion the wakf property will be applied for the benefit of the poor and indigent, and for all pious acts and objects, which may be the means of approaching the deity. Birr, or charity, is a word which comprehends all good and pious actions (khair), such as the help of the poor, the assistance of the weak, the improvement of the condition of the Mussulmans, the performance of Hajj, education and support of students, &c.”

7. The same doctrine prevails in the Sunni schools. Mere vagueness or uncertainty does not lead to the failure of a wakf, for in such a case the law itself supplies the defect by declaring that the trust should be in favour of such objects as approach nearest in character to the intended object of the wakf, or, even when that is not expressed, to the support of the poor and needy. In the absence of explicit directions on the part of the wakif, the hakim has the power of framing a scheme by himself, or in consultation with the beneficiaries for the administration of the wakf.

8. The Kâzi, as the representative of the sovereign in his judicial capacity, is the general curator of all wakfs, whether public or private. In Turkey, however, endowments which are in their nature public, or the benefits of which are for the public generally, are under the direction, control and supervision of a special officer appointed by the Government, who is called the Nazir-i-Awkâf. Upon their accession to sovereign power, the British for some time allowed the endowments, which owed their origin principally to the bounty of the former rulers and chiefs, to remain in a state of disorder; but the necessity of a law for the preservation of Hindu and Muhammadan trusts soon presented itself, and Regulation XI of 1810 was the result.

9. In 1863, however, Government divested itself by Act XX of that year of all connection with the religious endowments of both Hindus and Muhammadans, and retained the control only of such institutions as were secular in their character.

10. The preamble and the earlier sections of this Act indicate conclusively its scope, and there can hardly be any doubt that its operation was confined to such trusts or endowments as were transferred to trustees under sections 4 to 7 of the Act. And so it was expressly decided in the case of Delroos Banoo Begum versus Nawab Syed Asghur Ally Khun.

11. The principle laid down in Delroos Banoo Begum versus Nawab Syed Asghur Ally, with reference to the nature and scope of Act XX of 1863, has been practically overruled by the decision in Jan Ally versus Ram Nauth Mundul. In this case it has been held, in effect, that every mosque, Hindu temple, college, or religious institution, for the support of which land had been granted by the preceding Governments, or by individuals, comes within the purview of the Act, and that consequently no suit can be instituted with reference to any of these institutions without leave having been first obtained under section 18. This ruling apparently was adopted in another case decided by the Calcutta High Court. The Allahabad High Court has dissented from the view entertained by the Calcutta High Court. It has held that every Muhammadan has an inherent right to maintain a suit for the purpose of establishing a wakf, or his own right to share in its benefits. Section 539 of Act XIV of 1882 (the Civil Procedure Code), refers to—

Zafaryab Ali versus Bukhtwar Sing.

I. L. 5 All., p. 497.

“trusts created for public, charitable or religious purposes” exclusively. To enable a beneficiary to proceed under the provisions of this section applicable to a wakf, it would be necessary to show that the trust is for a public, charitable or religious purpose; in other words, that it was vested in the public or that the beneficiaries are selected from the general body of the public.

12. Owing to the conflicting character of the decisions existing on the subject, and the difficulty of procedure, both under Act XX of 1863 and the Civil Procedure Code, no proper check or control can be exercised at present over the numerous endowments which have survived the misconduct of the trustees and the avarice of money-lenders.

13. The Association desires in conclusion to offer the following suggestions as to the proposals to be submitted by the Endowment Committee to Government :—

I. That the Legislature be moved to simplify the procedure at present existing as to the institution of suits relating to the administration of trusts, and that an officer be appointed in each district to institute and conduct such suits when directed by Government. The Association would suggest, with a view to save any extra expense, that a Muhammadan Deputy Magistrate or executive officer of sufficient experience may be invested with such office.

II. That a Central Committee, consisting of a few Muhammadans, with the Advocate-General of Bengal as its President, be appointed to exercise a general supervision over Muhammadan endowments, and to see that the funds are properly applied. This Committee should receive reports from the District Committees, and in case of breach of trust and misconduct, or misapplication of funds on the part of the trustees, may move Government, if necessary, to direct the authorised officer to institute a suit on that behalf.

III. That in case of educational funds, the Central Committee should have the power of directing how they should be applied.

IV. That the Civil Court be authorised by the Legislature, when the funds are not specifically apportioned in any wakfnamah, to exercise the discretion vested in the Kāzi under the Muhammadan Law, and apportion the funds in accordance with the requirements of each special case.

V. That District Committees be appointed consisting of a few Muhammadans, with the Collector as President, to advise the mutwallis, and to exercise a general supervision over the wakfs. Such supervision should not be inquisitorial.

VI. That the trustees of the endowments, religious and secular, should furnish to the Central Committee yearly accounts of receipts and disbursements.

14. The Association deprecates the revival of Regulation XIX of 1810 in respect of religious trusts. In the opinion of the Association, it is inexpedient, in view of the existing circumstances of the country, to vest executive officers of Government with the plenary powers which the Regulation gave them. The Association ventures to think that the present suggestions would protect and preserve the Muhammadan wakfs without any unnecessary interference with their honest management.

NOTE BY THE HON'BLE ABDUL JUBBAR.

THIS Committee has been appointed in accordance with the orders of the Government of India, passed on a memorial submitted by the Central National Muhammadan Association, in which, among other things, the necessity of preserving and utilising the existing Muhammadan endowments for educational purposes was urged upon the attention of that Government.

The Committee, as its name indicates, has to deal with educational endowments, and to report what action, executive or legislative, may, in their opinion, be necessary for preventing misappropriation of such endowments. From passages in the Resolutions, both of the Government of India and of the Bengal Government, it is evident that the Committee's enquiry should not extend to religious endowments, but should be confined to educational endowments. Therefore, the first thing which the Committee has to do is to eliminate religious endowments from the number of those reported to be in existence in Bengal. This, I am constrained to say, is not an easy task for them. A Muhammadan endowment or wakf is a legacy for pious uses, and is intended for the spiritual benefit of the donor.

It is true that in some deeds of endowment is to be found a provision for the maintenance of Talibul, ilems, but therein the word means students of divinity, and not seekers of secular knowledge, such as I admit is now-a-days required for the amelioration of the condition in life of the Indian Mussulmans. Much stress is laid upon the literal signification of the word; but no Doctor of Muhammadan law, when called upon to expound it in reference to its use in a deed of endowment, can, I am sure, conscientiously interpret it in the way in which it will be acceptable to the more worldly-minded individuals of the present generation. We often see readers of Quorans and Fekha in mosques, khankas, mukhtabs and madrasahs founded by pious Mussulmans, and it is the maintenance of such readers or learners that the founders intended.

The memorial asked for, and the Government orders direct an enquiry into, Muhammadan educational endowments; but both are silent as to the character of the education contemplated by the donors.

Every well-wisher of the Muhammadan community will be indebted to the Committee for any measure which they may suggest for the protection of all Muhammadan endowments from misappropriation; but the Muhammadan public will loudly complain should funds set apart by Muhammadan donors for religious instructions be wholly or partly applied to secular education. Most of the endowments brought to the notice of the Committee bear dates prior to and at the time of the Muhammadans, whose religious scruples have within the space of 40 years reduced many respectable Muhammadan families in Bengal to the deplorable condition in which we now see them, and which, I am thankful to say, has attracted the attention of the authorities. It will therefore be fallacious to argue that it will not be diverting to purposes alien to the wishes of the donors if we devote endowed funds to other than religious training.

Happily for the Muhammadans that they have now come to see the mistakes of their predecessors and the advantages of a liberal English education, but it would be a clear misappropriation of endowments if students of English were supported by funds intended for the use of those devoted to the study of religion. I do not wish to discuss what is meant by "ilem" or knowledge in Moslem theology.* The subject has been discussed threadbare by the learned doctors in every country to which the faith of Islam has extended. The works of those Muhammadan "ulemas" who had devoted their whole lives to religion are sufficient authority for the guidance of the votaries of Islam in the affairs of the next world, and they stand in no need of further comments on the Quoran and the Ahadis. The time has not come, and I hope will never come, when the Muhammadans will in religious matters be guided by the opinions of any Association or Society, the main object of which is or may be to secure political advantages.

We are all alive to the advantages of an English education, and we ought to make every lawful effort to obtain it; but in order to secure what we most desire, and what is essential to our welfare in the world, we cannot do a gross injustice to the souls of the departed. In order to qualify ourselves for seats in the High Court, for appointments in the Judicial and Executive Services, and for Local Self-Government, we ought not to rob the funds purposely provided for religious instructions. Our ancestors, with whose endowments the Committee is concerned, and whose intentions the Committee is now to explain, were firm and honest in their religious convictions and had no idea of what is now called secular education.

With the advance of what is called civilization, religion has shown symptoms of decadence, and nothing seems to require so much support as religion. No true friends of Islam should be a party to any measure which will deprive the Muhammadans, wholly or partially, of the means available for religious instructions. Secular education, which has its apparent advantages, does not require much special encouragement; but in all ages, and among all nations, funds have often been provided for the dissemination of religious education. Colleges and schools have been opened throughout the country for imparting secular

* The following quotation will show what is meant by ilem :—

قال رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم العلم ثلاثة آية محكمة أو سنة قائمة أو فريضة عادلة ومكان

سوى ذالك فهو فضل رواه ابو داود وابن ماجه *

The prophet (the blessing and peace of God be with him) said :—"Ilm or knowledge is of three kinds, viz., the established text or verses of the Quoran; the correct traditions; and the lawful interpretation of the Quoran and the traditions, and that whatever is beyond these three is not necessary." Related by Abu Daud and Ibu Majah.

education, but religious instructions are given only in mosques, khankas, and madrassas mostly supported by endowments. If the attempt to withdraw, by means of legislation, partly or wholly, any funds bequeathed by pious Mussulmans for religious education be successful, the time will not be distant when no one will be found to perform religious ceremonies, much less to give religious instructions, and when the dead will be buried without a funeral service.

I do not deny that there is evidence that since the repeal of Regulation XIX of 1810 endowments have, in some instances, suffered from mismanagement or misappropriation. That Regulation, which vested in the Board of Revenue and Board of Commissioners the general superintendence of all lands granted for the support of mosques and colleges, and for other pious and beneficial purposes, was passed to enable Government to see that all such endowments were applied according to the real intent and will of the grantors. As long as the rules embodied in that Regulation were in operation, there was proper check upon the proceedings of managers and trustees in immediate charge of endowments, and instances of misappropriations were rare. A reference to section 1 of the Regulation would show that it was an important duty of every Government to provide that all endowments were applied according to the real intent and will of the grantor, and I am not aware of the reasons which in 1863 led Government to divest itself of that duty. Act XX of that year gave to individuals interested in a mosque, temple or religious establishments a right of suing a manager or trustee of such mosque, temple or religious establishment, but the difficulties of instituting and establishing a civil suit against one in power are so great that private individuals seldom think of exercising that right. On the other hand, if the Board and the District Officers still had that power of supervision which Regulation XIX of 1810 gave them, they would be able to remedy at once any evil which might arise from the misconduct of managers and trustees of endowed properties. I am therefore strongly in favour of the revival of that Regulation which was in force for upwards of half a century, and against which no objection was ever raised by the people. As regards the proposals which have emanated from one of our colleagues for the formation of Central and Branch Committees, I beg to say that I quite disapprove of them. The Muhammadan public will have more confidence in the European officers than in the soi-disant leaders of their own community, who are supposed to be impatient to see a radical change in the present state of things. No friends and neighbours of Muhammadan donors will ever consent to any interference with the arrangements which are or may be consistent with the wishes of the latter. For instance, the transfer of any funds from one place to another will be prejudicial to the mosque, khanka or madrassa maintained or intended to be maintained by an endowment. On the principle that charity begins at home, every donor intended that his immediate neighbour should be benefited by any property which he might leave for religious or charitable purposes.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

CALCUTTA, the 15th February 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 11TH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

At the end of the previous week the barometer was considerably below the normal (the deficiency averaging a tenth of an inch for the province), winds were light and unsteady and blowing from the sea in the coast districts, and temperature and humidity were hence considerably above the average. These conditions continued unchanged until the morning of the 7th. The barometer then began to rise, and pressure increased rapidly and continuously during the remainder of the week. The total rise of the barometer during this period varied in amount from $\cdot 22''$ at Chittagong to $\cdot 33''$ at Calcutta. Winds reverted to their cold-weather directions, and a rapid fall of temperature ensued, which gave remarkably low night and day temperatures on the 10th and 11th throughout the whole province. The humidity of the air, which was considerably above the average on the 5th and 6th, fell rapidly, and the air became abnormally dry throughout the whole of the province. The fall of temperature was most marked in North Bengal. Lower minimum temperatures were registered in North Bengal on the morning of the 11th than have occurred for many years. Thus at Julpigori the minimum temperature in the shade on the night of the 10th was 36° , at Rungpore 37° , at Dinagepore $38\cdot 9^{\circ}$, and it is very probable that out in the open near the ground the temperature in the northern districts of North Bengal fell down to, if not below, freezing point. The minimum in shade thermometer at Darjeeling fell to $21\cdot 9^{\circ}$ or $10\cdot 3^{\circ}$ below freezing int on the ponight of the 10th.

The decrease in the humidity was most marked in North Bengal, the northern and central districts of East Bengal and South-West Bengal, and it is hence evident that this great change of atmospheric condition was not due to the transmission of a wave of cold and dry air from Upper India, as the air was warmer and generally moister in Behar and Chutia Nagpur than over the whole of North and Central Bengal. The only explanation appears to be that it was an effect transmitted from the hills to the north of Bengal, and which began as soon as the skies cleared after the recent stormy weather and heavy snowfall in the Himalayas. The weather during the whole week was fine, and during the latter half of the week unusually cool and dry. No rain fell, except one or two light local showers of no importance, in East Bengal.

The barometer oscillated slightly from the 5th to the 7th, and then rose continuously from the 7th to the end of the week. The average amount of the rise in South-West Bengal (where it was greatest) was $\cdot 31''$, in Orissa and North Behar $\cdot 28''$, in South Behar, Chutia Nagpur, East Bengal, North Bengal, and at Darjeeling $\cdot 25''$. The mean pressure of the week is slightly above the normal mean by amounts varying from $\cdot 01''$ to $\cdot 04''$.

Temperature was from 2° to 5° above the average on the 5th and 6th. It then began to decrease, and was unusually low at the end of the week. The fall was most marked in the night temperature. In North Bengal the minimum temperature in the shade was from 10° to 15° lower at the end of the week than at the beginning. The minimum temperature of North Bengal on the night of the 10th was $40\cdot 20^{\circ}$, of North Behar $41\cdot 5^{\circ}$, of South Behar $45\cdot 4^{\circ}$, of Hazaribagh in Chutia Nagpur $41\cdot 9^{\circ}$, and of South-West Bengal $49\cdot 7^{\circ}$.

The mean temperature of the week was $3\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ below the normal mean in Chutia Nagpur and North Behar, $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ in South Behar, and $1\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ in East and South-West Bengal. Orissa is the only division in which the temperature and other conditions were practically normal during the week.

The following table gives temperature data for eight representative stations :—

One of the more remarkable features of the meteorology of latter half of the week was the unusual dryness of the air in North and East Bengal. This is shown clearly by the following statement :—

The meteorology of the latter half of the week is a direct and remarkable illustration of the after effects of heavy snowfall in the Himalayas on the adjacent plain districts of Northern India.

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 29th January 1887, the returns from the principal Municipalities in Bengal furnished the following results :—

1. That births were registered in the above Municipalities at the rate of 22·3 per 1,000 of population as opposed to very nearly the same proportion, viz. 22·0 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 22nd January, and deaths at 24·0 against 28·5 per 1,000, indicating a considerable falling off in the record of deaths.

2. That the undermentioned Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.		Deaths.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
Monghyr	73·2	Puri	41·1
Durbhanga	42·6	Suburbs of Calcutta	42·4
Beaulah	39·4	Purneah	41·5
Comillah	38·5	Utterpara	37·8
Serampore	35·4	Beaulah	34·2
		Darjiling	32·6
		Burdwan	30·5

3. That the mortality from the principal diseases, contrasted with the mortality from the same causes in the preceding week, stood as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	26th January 1887.	22nd January 1887.
Cholera	2·3	2·6
Small-pox
Fever	8·7	9·9
Bowel-complaints	5·5	6·8
Injury	·2	·2
Other causes	7·3	9·0

indicating mainly that there was a sensible abatement in the death-rates from fever, bowel-complaints, and the maladies coming under the head of "Other causes."

4. Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives necessary to re-census them. The natives were consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans is based on a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under that head not having been returned under the authorized form of age classification.

N. ST. L. CARTER,

Traffic Manager.

TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPUR, the 9th February 1887.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during month ended 31st December 1886.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was an increase in the up and a decrease in the downward traffic; the increase was principally due to demands from Foreign Railways, and the downward decrease was due in a great measure to the mines not having entirely got rid of the rain water which flooded them during the monsoon.

Cotton.—This increase was chiefly due, as during the early part of the present season, to a good demand for export.

Indigo.—The increase in this commodity is attributable to a larger quantity having been disposed of in Calcutta than during the corresponding period of 1885.

Other fibres, raw.—Due to the development of the new trade in flax and hemp despatched from the North-Western Provinces to Calcutta.

Wheat.—This increase was due to the rise in the home market.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—Continuation of the favourable market referred to in the report for November led to the increase in this staple.

Other rain and spring crops.—The increase under this head was chiefly due to increased despatches from Cawnpore and via Cawnpore to Rajputana and Western India and from Barh to Howrah.

Iron.—The increase was principally in short lead traffic.

Opium.—This drug is carried as found convenient to Government.

Saltpetre.—The favourable state of the Calcutta market accounts for the increase in this staple.

Seeds.—The increase was chiefly in linseed, mustard seed and indigo seed, and may be ascribed principally to demand in Calcutta in the case of the two former staples.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—There was a large increase in the weight of unrefined sugar carried during the period, but the increase in earnings was not in proportion owing to the traffic being to a great extent from stations on the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway to Rajputana, and so having a short lead only over this Railway.

Tobacco.—This increase is attributable chiefly to demand in the Central Provinces.

DECREASES.

Gram and Pulses.—There was an increase in weight, but a decrease in earnings from the traffic in these staples, and this was due to a large share of the traffic during the current period having been sent to Howrah from riverside stations, Mokameh Digha, &c., instead of, as during last year, from Delhi and the North-West stations.

Railway Material, Foreign.—This decrease was almost entirely due to the requirements in material for the Benares Bridge having been completed.

Salt.—There was an increase in weight attended with a slight decrease in the earnings, and this is due to the large reduction brought into force in 1886.

Government stores.—Due to the Camp of Exercise held at Delhi in 1895.

PROPOSED RULES UNDER THE NEW PETROLEUM ACT, XII OF 1886.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 8 and 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1886, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum:—

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules, and defined in the Act, shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules "petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment of such description as the Local Government may from time to time by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Testing Officer appointed by Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot—

(a) What quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying.

(b) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is dangerous.

(c) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is certificated.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated, he shall produce to the pilot the certificate covering the same.

3. If the petroleum is in iron drums with a certified flashing point above 80° by Abel's test and does not exceed 5,000 gallons in quantity,

Or if it is petroleum which has been certified not to be dangerous under section 9 of the Act, and has come from a port in British India as part of a general cargo, and the quantity does not exceed 5,000 gallons,

Or if it is certificated petroleum not exceeding 5,000 gallons in quantity and the master produces the certificate to the pilot,

Or if it is dangerous or uncertificated petroleum not exceeding 40 gallons in quantity, the ship may proceed to any mooring in the port and there discharge the petroleum.

4. Any ship having on board a larger quantity of petroleum than is allowed under rule 3 shall not proceed upwards further than Budge-Budge, and such petroleum, whether landed at the petroleum wharf or otherwise discharged, shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 5 of the Petroleum Act, or the issue of a certificate under section 9, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

5. (1) When a ship is stopped at Budge-Budge under rule 4, the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf shall, as soon as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed or discharged into boats, obtain samples of all the oil thus landed or discharged.

(2) Every different quality of oil shall be separately sampled, and when oil is represented to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as may be necessary, shall forward them to the Testing Officer for report.

6. The Testing Officer shall, as soon as practicable, and ordinarily within 24 hours, after the receipt of the samples, sign a report certifying that they are, or are not, dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and shall forward such report to the office of the Port Commissioners, sending also a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police of Calcutta.

7. No petroleum shall be removed from the wharf limits at Budge-Budge until it has been certified to be not dangerous, except in accordance with a license granted under section 5 of the Act.

8. Unless with the written permission of the Commissioners, no petroleum shall be discharged or landed within the port of Calcutta, except between day-light and dark, and at the wharves expressly set apart for the landing of petroleum.

9. The fee for sampling and testing petroleum shall be five rupees for each sample tested.

10. No smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed at the Budge-Budge Petroleum Wharf, and no receptacle containing petroleum shall be opened or the contents drawn off, within the bunds enclosing the sheds constructed for the storage of petroleum, except in such special place or places in the depôt as may be set apart by the Port Commissioners for that purpose.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

11. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall, on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 5 or section 6 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

12. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores, and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum, manifested as ship's stores, is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta, and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere, shall be final.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FRAME RULES UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT XII OF 1886.

WE, the members of the Committee appointed at the 479th Meeting of the Commissioners to consider and report upon the rules for the importation, transport, and storage of petroleum under Act XII of 1886, have the honour to submit the following report:—

Meetings of the Committee were held on the 28th June, and on the 5th and 7th of July.

The general tendency of the alterations which we have suggested is in the direction of relaxing the restrictions provided by the existing rules. We think that the experience of the last five years has shown that some precautions, which were thought necessary when the Act of 1881 was passed, may be dispensed with, and we desire to leave the trade as free as is compatible with public safety.

The rules fall under three general heads—importation, transport, and possession. The matters in respect of which rules may be made to regulate the importation of petroleum are specified in section 9 of the Act; rules relating to transport and possession fall under section 11.

In the preliminary section, we have substituted the testing officer appointed by Government for the Chemical Examiner to Government. This brings the rule into accordance with the wording of the Act, and the Chemical Examiner will not necessarily be the testing officer. He will probably be appointed in the first instance, but it will perhaps hereafter be found convenient to have a resident testing officer at Budge-Budge, so as to avoid the delay of sending the oil up to Calcutta to be tested.

In rule 3 we have raised the quantity of certificated petroleum which may be brought into the Port as part of a general cargo to 5,000 gallons. It has been represented to us that coasting steamers sometimes bring to Calcutta oil which has already passed the test at Bombay or elsewhere, and we think it unnecessary that such oil should be tested again. If the quantity is limited to 5,000 gallons, we think there is no danger of this liberty being abused.

Section 8 of the Act contemplates the possibility of the petroleum being discharged into boats instead of being landed, and we have modified the wording of rule 5 accordingly.

Rule 7 provides for a contingency which is apparently not covered by section 9 of the Act, and we therefore think the rule is necessary.

Rule 8 is intended to apply to the landing of petroleum both at the Budge-Budge wharf and at such other landing places within the Port as may be set aside for the landing of petroleum. We do not think that vessels which bring up 5,000 gallons of oil under rule 3 should be permitted to discharge the oil except at proper times and at suitable places.

The Act contemplates the fixing of fees for the sampling and testing of petroleum, and we accordingly give power in rule 9 to fix the fee at Rs. 5 for each sample tested. But we are disposed to think it unnecessary that this power should be exercised. The amount realized from such fees would be scarcely Rs. 1,000 a year, and it is not worth while, for so small a sum, to levy a charge which would certainly be unpopular, and might in some cases be troublesome to collect. We understand that no fees are charged at present for testing oil, and we recommend that Government should be asked to continue to allow the oil to be tested free of charge.

We have extended the rules for the possession of petroleum to the area at Budge-Budge surrounding the Commissioners' wharf and sheds. We think it undesirable, and indeed dangerous, that large quantities of petroleum should be stored in the immediate vicinity of the Commissioners' sheds, except under the precautions provided by the rules.

In rule 19 we have left the charge for storage licenses as it stands at present. The scale was fixed after full and long discussion, and though we understand that the dealers complain of it as too high, we have not found sufficient grounds for altering it. The matter appears to us of less importance, because it is in contemplation to levy a municipal tax of 2 annas a case on all petroleum stored in the town, and if this proposal takes effect, the municipal tax will presumably be substituted for the present license fee.

Rule 23 declares that no license shall be required for the Port Commissioners' storage sheds at Budge-Budge or elsewhere. It is clearly unnecessary that these sheds, which are erected for the public convenience, should be licensed.

In the rules regarding transport, we have found it necessary to make special provision for the case of transport by carts. A cart does not take so much as 500 gallons of oil, and therefore no license is required for it; but the Advocate-General has given an opinion that a batch or string of carts, starting together, and conveying oil which is the property of one person, must be licensed. We propose to allow the owner of the oil to take out a general license, which shall be in force for 12 months, and to give passes to the cartmen who are in actual charge of the petroleum. A fee of Rs. 100 will be charged for such a general license. At the same time, we are of opinion that the earliest opportunity should be taken to vest Government with the power to free carts from the necessity for being licensed when carrying non-dangerous petroleum, not only because we are strongly of opinion that there is no necessity for interfering with the movement of non-dangerous petroleum when moved in quantities under 500 gallons on each cart, but also because the licensing of carts would lead to much public inconvenience, and probably be used as a means for extortion and oppression by native policemen. For special licenses, which will generally be for transport by boat, we have reduced the amount of the fee from Re. 1 per 1,000 gallons to Re. 1 per 5,000 gallons. We have authorized the Port Commissioners to grant transport licenses at Budge-Budge. It will manifestly be the most convenient plan that an owner who wishes to remove his oil from the sheds, should be able to obtain a license on the spot from the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf.

We recommend that the rules, as now revised, should be sent to the Commissioner of Police for communication to the Legal Remembrancer.

ESTABLISHMENT OF AN IMPERIAL INSTITUTE IN LONDON IN COMMEMORATION OF HER MAJESTY'S JUBILEE.

THE following papers, in continuation of the correspondence published at pages 187, 188 of the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of 2nd February 1887, are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,

The 22nd February 1887.

Circular No. 2—18-87Ex., dated Calcutta, the 14th February 1887.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPT.

From—W. R. LAWRENCE, Esq., c.s., Under-Secretary to the Government of India,
Revenue and Agricultural Dept. (Exhibitions),

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In continuation of my Circular No. 3Ex., dated the 24th ultimo, I am directed to forward, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a despatch,* with its enclosures, received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, on the subject of the formation of an Imperial Institute in London in commemoration of the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign.

* No. 9 (Statistics and Commerce), dated the 20th January 1887.

No. 9 (Stats. & Comce.), dated India Office, London, the 20th January 1887.

From—VISCOUNT CROSS, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—The Government of India.

I FORWARD, for the information and consideration of Your Excellency, a copy of a letter from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, enclosing a copy of a report of the Committee appointed by His Royal Highness, under the presidency of Lord Herschell, to frame a scheme for the commemoration of the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign.

2. You will see that the Committee have adopted the suggestion that the Jubilee shall be commemorated by an institution permanently illustrating the resources and progress of the United Kingdom, the Colonies, and India; and they advise that a body thoroughly representative of the great commercial and industrial interests of the Empire shall be created by Royal Charter for the government of the institution, and that the Institute building shall be of a character worthily to commemorate the occasion and to afford suitable accommodation for libraries, museums, economical collections, scientific or trade conferences, and for other cognate purposes.

3. Your Excellency will observe that the scheme has the hearty support of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and has been accepted by the most influential bodies in this country, the great Corporations, the principal Chambers of Commerce, and the Agents for the different Colonies. Moreover, it is understood that the scheme is very acceptable to Her Majesty the Queen personally.

4. It may, therefore, be concluded that the project recommended by Lord Herschell's Committee has been finally decided on.

5. His Royal Highness expresses his hope that the scheme will receive the active and cordial support of Your Excellency's Government, and that, as he greatly desires to enlist the sympathy and support of the princes and people of India for it, you will set on foot suitable measures for promoting that result.

6. I have much pleasure in expressing my entire concurrence in these views; and I doubt not that your Government will do all in its power to ensure the success of the scheme, and to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of all classes of the community.

7. With this object, it seems desirable that Your Excellency should form a Central Committee, and should instruct the Local Governments and Political Agents to form Local Committees, and to take such steps as may be in their power to diffuse information on the subject.

"Commemoration of Jubilee. Imperial Institute. I send despatch enclosing letter from Prince of Wales, with report of Committee, adopting suggestion of permanent representation of resources of Empire, managed by body created by Charter, with building for libraries, museums, trade conferences, &c. Scheme accepted by Chambers of Commerce and Colonial Agents, and acceptable to the Queen personally. May be held to be finally decided on. His Royal Highness hopes it will receive cordial support of Your Excellency's Government and Princes of India. I concur, and suggest formation of Central and Local Committees to make objects known to all classes of community."

8. In order to put Your Excellency in possession of the substance of this despatch, I have caused the telegram marginally transcribed to be sent to you.

Dated Sandringham, Norfolk, the 1st January 1887.

From—HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES,

To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

IN asking the attention of Your Lordship to the accompanying Report of the Committee entrusted by me with the task of preparing a scheme for the Imperial Institute proposed to be founded in commemoration of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign, I cherish the hope that the suggestions which it embodies, and which have my entire approval, may, especially so far as they directly relate to the Indian Empire, receive the cordial and active support of Your Lordship in Council.

I look forward with much interest and anxiety to the receipt of intelligence that the Government of India and the Local Governments are taking steps to promote the establishment and development of an institution which promises to strengthen the ties between India, the United Kingdom, and the Colonies; and, as I greatly desire to enlist the sympathies and support of the princes and the people of India in favour of this national tribute to Her Majesty, it would afford me great satisfaction to learn that suitable measures for promoting that result have suggested themselves to, and have been set on foot by, the Secretary of State for India in Council.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

THE Committee appointed by Your Royal Highness to frame a scheme for an Imperial Institute intended to commemorate the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign, beg leave to submit to Your Royal Highness the following report.

2. They do not fail to remember that the scheme which Your Royal Highness indicated in your letter of the 13th of September last to the Lord Mayor of London had its origin in the remarkable interest excited by the recent Exhibition, by which not only the material products, resources, and manufactures, but the loyal feeling of the great Colonies and Possessions of Her Majesty's Empire were illustrated in a most signal manner.

3. The object therefore which naturally suggested itself first to the Committee was the development, with some necessary modifications, of Your Royal Highness's idea of creating a permanent representation of the resources and progress of the Colonies and India.

4. On pursuing, however, the consideration of the subject, the Committee became persuaded that a Memorial really worthy of the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign could not be confined in its objects to any one part or parts of Her Majesty's Empire, and that it must in some form and degree also comprehend a representation of the United Kingdom.

5. Their desire, therefore, in the following outline of the scheme which they recommend, is to combine in a harmonious form, and with a view to some practical and useful purpose, a representation of the Colonies and India on the one hand, and of the United Kingdom on the other.

6. They submit that this object will be best indicated by giving to the Memorial the title of THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM, THE COLONIES AND INDIA.

7. They think that the Institute should find its home in buildings of such a character as worthily to commemorate the Jubilee year of the Queen's reign, and to afford accommodation suitable for an institution combining the important objects which they now proceed to describe.

8. It is obvious that several departments of the Institute, such as the Hall, Conference Rooms, &c., which will be found described under the Colonial and Indian Section and the United Kingdom Section, respectively, will be common both to the Colonies and India and to the United Kingdom; but as others have special relation to a particular portion of Her Majesty's Dominions, it will be found convenient to make the following division:

A.—COLONIAL AND INDIAN SECTION.

9. The object of the Colonial and Indian Section will be to illustrate the great commercial and industrial resources of the Colonies and India, and to spread a knowledge of their progress and social condition.

10. To this end provision should be made for—

- (1) the display, in an adequate manner, of the best natural and manufactured products of the Colonies and India, and in connection with this the circulation of typical collections throughout the United Kingdom;
- (2) a Hall for the discussion of Colonial and Indian subjects, and for receptions connected with the Colonies and India;
- (3) the formation of Colonial and Indian libraries, and establishing in connection therewith reading, news, and intelligence rooms;
- (4) the incorporation in some form into the proposed Institute of the Royal Colonial Institute and Royal Asiatic Society, if, as is hoped, it be possible to bring about such a union;
- (5) the collection and diffusion of the fullest information in regard to the industrial and material condition of the Colonies, so as to enable intending emigrants to acquire all requisite knowledge. Such information might be advantageously supplemented by simple and practical instruction. An Emigration Office of this character should be in correspondence with the provincial towns, either through the free libraries or by other means, so that information may be readily accessible to the people. These objects would be greatly facilitated if, as may be hoped, the Government should consent to the transfer to the buildings of the Institute of the recently formed Emigration Department, which would, by a close connection with the Institute, largely increase its usefulness.

11. Facilities might be afforded for the exhibition of works of Colonial and Indian Art.

12. It is also considered desirable that means should be provided, not for a general exhibition, but for occasional special exhibitions of Colonial and Indian produce and manufactures. At one time a particular Colony or portion of the Empire may desire to show its progress; at another time a general comparison of particular industries may be useful. Whilst the permanent galleries would exhibit the usual commercial or industrial products of the several Colonies and India, the occasional exhibitions would stimulate and enlist the sympathies of Colonial and Indian producers, and keep up an active co-operation with the industrial classes of this country.

B.—UNITED KINGDOM SECTION.

13. The leading objects of this Section will be to exhibit the development during Her Majesty's reign and the present condition of the natural and manufactured products of the United Kingdom, and to afford such stimulus and knowledge as will lead to still further development, and thus increase the industrial prosperity of the country.

14. We submit that these objects may be carried out by making provision for the following purposes:—

- (1) Comprehensive collections of the natural products of the United Kingdom and of such products of other nations as are employed in its industries, with full scientific, practical and commercial information relating thereto.
- (2) Illustrations of manufactured products typical of their development and present condition, of trades and handicrafts and their progress during the Queen's reign, including illustrations of foreign work, when necessary, for comparison; together with models illustrating naval architecture, engineering, mining, and architectural works.

- (3) A library for industrial, commercial, and economic study, which should, contain standard works and reports on all subjects of trade and commerce. It will be desirable also to include a library of inventions of the Empire, and, as far as possible, of the United States and other countries.
- (4) Reading and conference rooms supplied with English, Colonial, and Foreign commercial and technical periodicals, and a fully-equipped map-room for geographical and geological reference. The conference rooms would be of value for meetings of Chambers of Commerce and other bodies of a kindred nature.
- (5) The promotion in affiliation with the Imperial Institute of commercial museums in the city of London and in the commercial centres of the provinces. To these the Institute would contribute specimens, samples, and exhibits of the commercial products likely to be specially valuable in particular localities. There should also be an organisation to connect the Imperial Institute with the provincial centres by lectures, conferences, the circulation of specimens, and other means.

It is hoped that the Institute may lead to the organisation of High Schools of Commerce, such as are now established in the chief commercial towns of most Continental countries, but which have as yet unfortunately no existence in the United Kingdom.

- (6) The building will also advantageously afford accommodation for (a) comparing and examining samples by the resources of modern science, and (b) the examination of artisans under the various schemes already existing for the promotion of technical education.

15. Space should also be provided for occasional exhibitions of separate industries, or of the special industries carried on in great provincial centres: for example, there might at one time be an exhibition of iron manufactures, at another of pottery, at another of textile fabrics, &c., which would tend to stimulate improvement in the different departments of industrial life. This object might be assisted by separate exhibitions of the handiwork of artisans.

16. The Committee having detailed the general nature of their suggestions under these heads, desire to add that they do not anticipate the exhibits in the collections remaining unchanged. They contemplate that as improvements are made from time to time the later and better results would displace those out of date.

17. They have had to consider how the space should be distributed between the United Kingdom on the one hand and the Colonies and India on the other, and they recommend that whatever portion of the buildings is not required for purposes manifestly common to both should be allotted to the two Sections fairly in equal parts.

C.—GOVERNMENT OF INSTITUTE.

18. The Committee recommend that a new body entirely independent of any existing organisation should be created for the government of the Institute. This body should be thoroughly representative of the great commercial and industrial interests of the Empire. The Colonies and India should have a fair share in the government of the Institute, and each Colony should have special charge of its own particular department, subject, of course, to the general management of the entire institution.

19. The method of carrying this out would be prescribed by the Charter after full consideration by Her Majesty in Council.

D.—SITE.

20. The Committee being fully conscious of the advantage of a central position for the Institute, have considered the various possible sites, and have, as far as has been within their power, obtained estimates of their cost.

21. To carry out the several objects which the Committee have indicated, a large space is necessary. The Committee have been unable to find any such suitable site in the central parts of London, except at a cost which, looking at the probable amount of subscriptions, would, after the purchase of the ground, leave a sum wholly inadequate for the erection and maintenance of the buildings, and for carrying out the objects of the Institute.

22. The site of about five acres recently secured for the New Admiralty and War Offices is valued at £820,000, or rather over £160,000 per acre; that now vacant in Charles Street opposite the India Office, is less than an acre and would cost at least £125,000; probably another acre might be secured by private contract, so that the value of a limited site in this position would not be less than £250,000. It has been suggested that a single acre not far from Charing Cross might be obtained for £224,000. Two and a half acres on the Thames Embankment have been offered for £100,000; and it is stated that six acres might be procured from Christ's Hospital at £600,000. Another good central position has been suggested, consisting of two and a half acres, which has been valued at £668,000.

23. It is of course probable that these sites might be obtained at somewhat less than the prices asked, but allowing for this, it is obvious that the purchase of any adequate area would involve the expenditure of a quarter to half a million.

24. The Committee have therefore been forced to abandon the hope of obtaining a central site within the limits allowed by any probable subscription.

25. The attention of the Committee was then drawn to the property at South Kensington, belonging to the Commissioners, for the Exhibition of 1851. This property was bought out of the profits of that Exhibition, with the express object of offering sites for any large public buildings which might be required for the promotion of Science and Art.

26. Under these circumstances, the Committee submit to Your Royal Highness that the Imperial Institute may well establish a claim for the grant of a site of sufficient magnitude on property bought and reserved for public institutions of this character.

27. Though sensible of the objections that may be urged against the situation at South Kensington, the Committee think that the advantage must be obvious of obtaining a sufficient site virtually free of cost, so that the whole of the subscriptions may be devoted to providing a building for and establishing and maintaining the Institute.

28. The Committee, whilst guided in the recommendation of a site by the considerations they have indicated, think it right to add that there are some incidental advantages connected with that at South Kensington.

29. In that locality are combined the City and Guilds Technical College, the Royal College of Music, and the Government Museums and Schools of Science and Art, which ought to be in immediate proximity to an Imperial Institute of the character which we have described.

30. The technical character of the collections and exhibitions of the Imperial Institute has a natural connection with the collections of Science and Art in the Government Museums

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

31. An Imperial Institute for the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India would fail in its chief object if it did not constantly keep in view that it ought to be a centre for diffusing and extending knowledge in relation to the industrial resources and commerce of the Empire.

32. The necessity for technical education is now fully appreciated, because the competition of industry has become in a great measure a competition of trained intelligence. The Committee, however, do not recommend that the Imperial Institute should aspire to be a College for Technical education. Many of the large towns in Great Britain have recently established Colleges or Schools of Science and Art. The Imperial Institute might serve to promote technical education in these, and to unite them with Colleges of larger resources which have been founded or formed branches for the purpose in the metropolis. It is too much to hope that an active co-operation of this character between the provincial centres and London could be at once undertaken by the Imperial Institute. But the Committee bear in mind that, in their last Report, the Commissioners of 1851 have indicated an intention to assist in carrying out such a scheme. If the Commissioners would contribute three or four thousand pounds annually, it would be possible to establish scholarships, which might enable promising candidates of the working classes to attend the local Institutions, and even, when it was desired, to complete their technical education in colleges of the metropolis. In addition to this aid, the Imperial Institute might be able in other ways to promote the foundation of scholarships, both in connection with the Colonies and provincial centres, in the hope of still further extending these benefits to the working classes.

33. In conclusion, the Committee submit that an Imperial Institute, such as they have sketched in broad outline, would form a fitting memorial of the coming year, when Her Majesty the Sovereign of this Empire will celebrate the Jubilee of Her happy reign. It would be an emblem of the Unity of the Empire, embracing as it does all parts of the Queen's Dominions, and tending to promote that closer union between them which has become more and more desired. It would exhibit the vast area, the varied resources, and the marvellous growth during Her Majesty's reign of the British Empire. It would unite in a single representative act the whole of her people; and since both the purpose and the effect of the Institute will be to advance the industrial and commercial resources of every part of the Empire, the Committee entertain a confident hope that Her Majesty's subjects, without distinction of class or race, will rejoice to take part in offering this tribute of love and loyalty

CALCUTTA, the 22nd February 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 18TH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

At the end of the previous week the barometer was remarkably high, the temperature unusually low, and the air exceedingly dry. These conditions, it was pointed out, were the direct effect of the recent stormy weather and heavy snowfall in the Himalayas to the north of Bengal, and began to be exhibited as soon as the skies cleared over the hills and fine weather set in. The same conditions continued during the present week. The barometer was unusually high and steady and showed no tendency to fall until the 17th. Dry northerly winds prevailed during the week in Bengal, and westerly winds in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The northerly winds in Bengal were evidently in part due to an outflow of cool dry air from the hills. The unusual dryness of the air caused the day temperature to increase rather rapidly during the week, and more especially in Bengal, where the maximum temperature was from 6° to 10° higher at the end than at the beginning of the week. The nights were remarkably cool, and hence the mean temperature of the week was from 3½° to 5° below the normal mean in Bengal and Orissa. The deficiency was most marked in the coast districts, as southerly sea winds usually commence to establish themselves during the second or third week of February, and temperature always increases rapidly with their advent and extension inland. No rain fell during the week in any part of the province.

The barometer fell slightly on the 13th, then rose on the 14th to the same height as on the 12th, and remained practically at the same level until the 17th, when it commenced to fall, but at first very slowly. The mean pressure of the week was very considerably above the normal, the excess averaging .14" for the Orissa and Chutia Nagpur stations, .13" for South-West Bengal and .12" for East Bengal, and Behar.

Temperature increased steadily during the week, the rise being more marked in the day than in the night temperature. The mean maximum day temperature of the week varied very slightly from the normal, and was in excess at some stations and in defect at others. The minimum night temperature was very considerably below the normal in Bengal and Orissa, the deficiency for the week for example at Calcutta averaging 7½°, at Burdwan 7°, at Cuttack 6½°, and at Dacca 5°.

The night temperature in Behar and Chutia Nagpur was practically normal; hence the mean temperature of the week was approximately normal in Chutia Nagpur and Behar (excluding the Purneah district), and considerably below the normal in Bengal and Orissa, the deficiency being most marked in the coast districts. The deficiency averaged 5° in Orissa, 3½° in South-West Bengal, and probably 3° in North Bengal and the adjacent districts of North Behar. The following table gives temperature data for eight representative stations for the past week:—

A remarkable feature of the weather of the past week was the unusual dryness of the air in Bengal. The following table shows the amount of the variation in this respect from the normal hygrometric conditions of the period :—

The dryness of the air was, as might be expected, most conspicuous in the coast districts of Bengal and Orissa, and was due to the retardation in the establishment of the sea winds on these coasts.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 18th of February 1887 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE leading features in connection with the vital statistics of the principal Municipalities in Bengal, for the week ending 5th February 1887, are the following:—

1. That births and deaths were registered in these Municipalities in the proportions per 1,000 of population of 21·8 and 24·6, respectively, as opposed to 22·3 and 24·0 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 29th January.

2. That these events were recorded in the highest proportions by the following Municipalities:—

Births.			Deaths.
		Ratio per mille.			Ratio per mille.
Naraingunge	...	41·4	Suburbs of Calcutta	...	47·5

Injury	·5	·2
Other causes	8·9	7·3

The above figures indicate that no noticeable differences in the death-rates occurred under any head, excepting from the diseases coming under the head of "Other causes," which exhibit an enhanced mortality of 1·6 per 1,000 of population.

4. That eliminating small-pox, from which no death was reported to have occurred, bowel-complaints, which proved noticeably severe only in the Suburbs of Calcutta, viz. at the rate of 11·2 per 1,000 of population, and injury, the casualties from which were nowhere large, cholera, fever and "Other causes" caused the greatest loss of life in the following Municipalities:—

INCREASES.

Metals 151 tons.
 This increase is principally in iron despatched for building purposes.
 Gunnies 611 tons.
 Heavy despatches of gunnies from the Serajgunze Jute Mills for shipment accounts for the extra weight lifted under this head. The better prices ruling also led to considerable movement in hand-made gunnies from the northern districts.
 Tea 551 tons.
 At the sale of 9th December there was a spurt in the prices, especially in Darjeeling teas, which fetched better rates all round, and managers of gardens rushed all available stocks down in order to secure the advantage of the better prices and to get the stuff to market before the Christmas holidays.
 Kerosine oil 351 tons.
 The high prices ruling for this staple for some time past has led to up-country purchasers holding off until stocks in the district were very nearly exhausted, and the result is the increase shown.

DECREASES.

Coal and coke 4,419 tons.
 The falling off under this head is partly due to the fact that, since the agency of the B. C. Flotilla was made over to Messrs. Hoare, Miller & Co., all coal for this service has been sent by river. The despatches for our own services were also less during the month under review than during the corresponding month last year.
 Jute 9,867 tons.
 Business in this staple has been comparatively at a stand-still during the month owing to holders insisting on prices which left no margin for profit to buyers. There are large stocks still in the district which must eventually find its way to the port, and the falling off is therefore merely traffic postponed.
 Grains 3,215 tons.
 This falling off is almost entirely in rice and is due to a fall in prices at the port. The decrease in the weight lifted during the month under review will probably be more than covered by subsequent despatches, as the staple must eventually be sent forward.
 Provisions 104 tons.
 The loss of traffic carried under this head is principally in ghee, and the falling off is no doubt in a great measure due to the adulteration in October.
 Railway materials 1,143 tons.
 The completion of the Dacca State Railway and a falling off in despatches for our own line account for this decrease.
 Salt 425 tons.
 A slight increase in prices in the Calcutta market has led to up-country purchasers holding off for a time.
 Tobacco 595 tons.
 A falling off in the demand for shipment to Burmah is the main cause of this decrease.
 Timber 366 tons.
 The traffic in timber has lately fallen off very considerably, and I can only attribute it to the completion of the Dacca State and other railways, for which we were in 1885 carrying timber in large quantities.
